Big Four Try Once More on German Issue

Nothing New Expected From Russia; Austrian Debate Set for Friday

BERLIN (AP)—The spotlight shifted back to the dreary discussion of the German problem at the Big Four conference today while Austria waited in the wings.

The foreign ministers agreed in a secret session yesterday to take up the Austrian independence treaty not later than Friday. A trickle of information hinted the two sides also established more clearly in some respects their positions on Asian questions.

Expect Old Proposals

In returning today to the question of Germany's unification, Western diplomats expected the Russians to submit some old proposals in new guises but with always one thing in mind—the Soviets do not intend to leave East Germany.

This assessment of the position of Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov prompted Erich Ollenhauer, who leads the Socialist opposition to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Conservative West German government, to plead with the Big Four in a statement at least to ease trade restrictions between the two parts of the country.

Soundings by reporters among delegates who knew what went on at the secret four-hour meeting yesterday in the Allied Control Authority Building brought only thin results.

The ministers did not announce an agreement on the holding of any further secret meetings, a fact taken by observers to mean little was gained.

Best Chance for Accord

Aside from the decision on Austria, whatever may have happened undoubtedly was in the Asian field. It is there that the West sees the greatest prospect for some "easing of international tension," for which the conference was originally called.

Secretary of State Dulles had intended to invite Molotov yesterday to persuade Red China to get on with the Korean armistice negotiations. But the communique on the meeting, barely 80 words, did not say whether he even raised that matter.

One source indicated Dulles talked so forcefully in again refusing Molotov's proposal for a Big Five conference including Red China that French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, disturbed, softened the impact in a later talk.

France Eager for Peace

Harrassed by the drain of her long war against Communist-led rebels in Indochina, France is more willing than the United States to talk with the Peiping government.

Though the foreign ministers decided to sidetrack discussion of German reunification in favor of the Austrian independence treaty "not later than next Friday," they may get around to Austria Thursday. Austrian Foreign Minister Leopold Gigl is to sit in and is expected to arrive from Vienna late today.

Russia and the Western Big Three are so close to an agreement on Austria that only disputes over reparations seem to separate them. But the final agreement may be difficult. Some 260 meetings of Big Four diplomats have been held since 1947 in a vain effort to make good on the big powers' wartime promise to free that nation which Hitler gobbled up.

Rental of Voting Machines For County Test Proposed

Leasing of voting machines, as an alternative to their purchase—or outright rejection—was suggested last night at a meeting of the board of elections and board of county commissioners.

Howard McCurdy, chairman of the commissioners, made the suggestion, declaring that the voters could try them out that way and discover whether they liked machine voting.

PURCHASE OF 77 machines was requested by the elections board last month, but commissioners have been reluctant to authorize the spending of $111,650 for them.

The elections board members say machines would pay for themselves in 10 years by savings on election costs, but the commissioners have expressed doubts the savings would be so great.

McCurdy, in opening the meeting last night, said it was called in order that commissioners might obtain more details on how election officials arrived at their figure of $10,313 annual savings with the use of machines.

Harold Patrick, chairman of the board of elections, said the savings were figured in comparison with the actual cost of conducting elections during 1952.

Throughout the meeting, members of the two boards indicated that both groups were concerned primarily in reaching the same objective, that of safeguarding the best financial interests of the county residents they represented.

In answer to a question from McCurdy about whether interest charges, depreciation, and servicing of machines were included by elections officials in arriving at their annual savings figure, Patrick told commissioners that the servicing charges were included, but not the depreciation or interest charges.

A depreciation amount was not included because of the estimated 50 to 60 years of longevity of the machines, while interest charges were not included because they did not know what method of financing commissioners would use if they approved their purchase, Patrick replied.

Board of elections members emphasized that acquisition of voting machines would result in high savings because they would be allowed to combine precincts and cut down on the number of personnel needed at each precinct.

IF VOTING machines are not acquired, an additional 18 precincts will have to be established to comply with a state law which limits the number of voters to each precinct to 400, Patrick said. This alone would eliminate the necessity of hiring 108 additional precinct workers, each paid $12 or $14 per day, board member Robert Stief pointed out, and added that this also meant a savings from not having to purchase additional equipment and supplies for these 18 precincts.

Referring to precinct workers, board member George Stafford reported that some persons worked from 6 a.m. on election days to 6 a.m. the following morning. Obtaining workers willing to work this many hours "is tough and it's getting tougher," Stafford added.

24-Hour Ban On Church St. Parking Asked

City Councilmen Hear Committee Proposals; Final Action Delayed

Discussion of a proposal that parking on the south side of Church St. again be prohibited on a 24-hour a day basis occupied a large portion of the City Council meeting held Monday night.

Becoming heated at times, the discussion began after Fourth Ward Councilman Ralph W. Williams, chairman of the streets and alleys committee read a report concerning the present three-hour parking ban from 3 to 6 p.m.

Williams said his committee met Feb. 4 with the city traffic commission and the problem of what to do about parking on Church St. was thoroughly discussed.

Results were that neither of two previously proposed plans would solve the problem, he said. These two plans were to tow away cars illegally parked on Church St. or raise parking fines to a maximum of $50.

Williams reported his committee felt it would be impossible to tow enough cars away each day to enforce the parking ban effectively.

Neither would increased fines serve the purpose because there would still be those who would not know about the parking ban, he said.

Nor could parking be permitted at all times because of the need for two eastbound traffic lanes to help relieve afternoon traffic congestion, he said.

On the basis of these findings his committee recommended the prohibiting of parking 24-hours a day, Sundays excepted, he said.

He added that his committee further recommended making Park Blvd. a one-way street south from W. Center St. to W. Church St. and Olney Ave. one-way north from W. Church St. to W. Center St. and called for Council to set a public meeting to discuss all these

Local Charter Group Pauses To Study Work

Review of Tentative Draft Will Be Made Before Moving Ahead

Members of the Marion city charter commission agreed last night at their weekly meeting in the YMCA to "stop and catch their breath."

The nine members of the 15-member commission present felt they were far enough along in their deliberations to pause and study the work they have accomplished.

In recent weeks, the charter commission has forged ahead rapidly, outlining the duties and responsibilities of the major city officers and departments.

Next week they will study their tentative draft proposals and compare them with other city charters in the state, looking for omissions and discrepancies in their own work so far. Such omissions as may be found will be discussed at the next meeting.

It was pointed out that each of the charters studied contained one or more items some other charter did not. All of these items were not desirable in the proposed Marion charter, but some of them might well be, it was felt.

Prior to the "stop and take a breath" decision, the commission agreed tentatively to omit any reference to the number of terms a council member may serve. It

TWO-WAY PLANE DEVELOPED. An experimental plane equipped with a rotor for vertical flight and wings and propeller for forward flight is displayed at McDonnell Aircraft Corp. plant in St. Louis, where it was built for military services. It is known as the XV1 convertiplane.

Seven Men Still Missing In Air Crash; Hopes Dim

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—What is it like to be hurled into space and marooned on the snowy wastes of Alaska?

Six airmen who were catapulted into the air last Friday when an Air Force C47 "disintegrated" in flight told last night of their experience.

They were among 16 men on the plane. Searchers have found the bodies of three men. Seven were still missing and hopes they would be found alive were very dim.

British Officer Missing

Among the missing were Lt. Col. W. West-Watson of the British Joint Military Services Mission on the U. S. Army staff at Washington, D. C.; and Capt. James Hill of the Army field forces at Ft. Benning, Ga.

A ground party which battled deep snow 15 miles to the scene of the crash from the little town of Curry, 75 miles northeast of here, last night reported it had found three bodies.

The six rescued men talked freely with newsmen at nearby Elmendorf Air Force Base. They were hospitalized at the 5005th Air Force Hospital at Elmendorf after being flown to safety.

Hear Explosion

All six were suffering exposure, shock and various cuts and bruises.

None of them could explain the accident, which happened on a flight from Elmendorf to Ladd AFB, Fairbanks, 275 miles to the northeast.

But to all six, the first indication of trouble was a terrific down draft that tossed the plane as if it was a feather. Two said they heard an explosion afterward.

Here is what the six had to tell newsmen:

Airman 1.C. Edward J. Fox, 22, West Utica, N. Y., who was lying on a pile of baggage when disaster struck:

Board Studies Tax Levy for Kindergartens

Discussion of a possible additional operating levy to be submitted at either the May primary or at the November election took place at the Monday night meeting of the Marion City Board of Education.

Board members expressed the idea that the additional levy, if it is submitted, may help support a kindergarten program. Some discussion was held on the question of whether or not Marion parents believe there is a need for a kindergarten program. Several parents who attended the meeting commented that they felt there definitely is a need for kindergarten classes in the city. No action was taken on the matter.

The board agreed to continue study on child accident insurance policies and board members Robert Kraner and Paul Bachman were appointed to report at the next school board meeting. It was stated that most insurance companies which have indicated interest in handling the voluntary insurance plans for school pupils will require the school board's approval to offer the program before they begin actual solicitation. The student insurance plan would cover the pupil for one hour before and after the school day and pay full coverage in case of any acci-

Six Jurors Seated In Mansfield Trial

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—The trial of Max Sternbaum, Mansfield supermarket executive charged with murdering his 31-year-old wife Leah, Dec. 4, 1952, goes into its second day today.

Six jurors, a woman and five men, have been seated. Sternbaum's attorney, former Ohio Lt. Gov. Paul Herbert asked a subpoena be issued against Marjorie Rosenman of Columbus and named her as the "mystery woman" who testified before the grand jury.

Mrs. Sternbaum was found dead in a supermarket gutted by fire. Sternbaum said two men beat him and his wife and set fire to the place.

Laos Capital Is Threatened By Vietminh

French Bracing for Defense Stand; Rebels Continue To Advance

SAIGON, Indochina (AP)—French and Laotian defenders of Luang Prabang braced today for an "imminent" attack from the Communist-led Vietminh. The rebel invaders were reported withinq 25 miles of the royal Laotian capital on the banks of the Mekong River.

Laos' rheumatic old King Sisavang Vong vowed once more the city of 142,000 would be defended "until the end." He made the same pledge last spring when the Vietminh invaded to within 12 miles of Luang Prabang, then withdrew without a major battle.

Hard Fighting Looms

This time there was every indication the fight would be joined.

The French said they had completed their major defenses against the onslaught.

The Vietminh invaded Laos from the north early last week, sending at least a division through the jungles and down the valleys of the Hou and Suong rivers toward the capital.

As the rebels advanced the French and Laotian forces and many civilians withdrew under the cover of intensive French air bombardment, leaving rice stocks burning behind them in an effort to destroy food the Red fighters need.

Though the Vietminh were reported officially within 25 miles of Luang Prabang, it was possible their advance troops were closer.

Temporarily Halted

Officials said yesterday the invaders had been stopped, at least temporarily, as they tried to force a crossing of the Suong in the area of Pak Seng, 37 miles northeast of Luang Prabang and strategically located at the juncture of the Suong and Seng rivers.

Today military authorities said it appeared likely the French-Laotian forces had abandoned Pak Seng, though there was no confirmation of this. That point is a

Two Gunmen Rob Four Korea Vets of $1,642 in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—Four Korean War veterans who were discharged from the Army yesterday were robbed of a total of $1,642 by two gunmen who had driven them to Chicago from nearby Fort Sheridan.

The robbery victims told police they had agreed to pay $1 each for the 30-mile ride. But, they said, when they arrived in Chicago the driver demanded $15 each.

When his demand was refused, the discharged soldiers said, the two men drove to the south side and ordered them from the car. Then the two men, both Negores, drew guns and forced the veterans to hand them their wallets.

Sgt. Richard Hartke, 22, of Dieterich, Ill., told police he had $490 in his wallet. Cpl. Duane Halvorson, 23, of Bagley, Minn., and Cpl. Harold Cox, New Harmony, Ind., each lost $430 to the gunmen and Cpl. Robert T. Pattee, 21, North Manchester, Ind., was robbed of $292.

Dulles, Molotov May Hold Key To Korea Talk

Foreign Ministers Ask Show of Faith by Reds, Could End Deadlock

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles apparently has switched to negotiations with Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov at Berlin in a new approach to peace settlement in Korea.

With the situation at Panmunjom in a seemingly hopeless deadlock, these developments indicated that Dulles may be taking this tack:

1. A denial by the State Department yesterday that Arthur H. Dean will be replaced as Panmunjim negotiator.

2. Hints that some way may be found for arranging a time, place and agenda for the peace conference without resuming the Panmunjom talks.

3. Dulles' continuing delay in replying to the Communist demand two weeks ago that Dean return to Panmunjom. The State Department has drafted several suggested replies and sent them to Dulles. He has not given his okay to any, indicating he may try a different maneuver.

Dulles has ample opportunity to take up the Korea question with Molotov during secret sessions which began yesterday at the Big Four foreign ministers meeting in Berlin.

He and the other Western ministers, Anthony Eden of Britain and George Bidault of France, are believed to be united in opposing any meeting with Red China except on Asian questions. And

Manslaughter Charge Filed In City Mishap

James M. Thompson Cited in Traffic Death Of Marion Resident

A second-degree manslaughter charge was filed in Marion Municipal Court today against James Marion Thompson, 21, of 443 Lee St.

City police filed the charge as a result of the death of Mrs. Goldie Baker, 46, of 416½ Silver St in City Hospital early Monday morning. She was fatally injured when struck by Thompson's car at Davids St. and Woodrow Ave. Saturday night.

Police Chief Thomas Coon said Thompson would appear in Municipal Court Wednesday morning for an arraignment.

The charge against Thompson accuses him of failure to yield the right of way to a pedestrian lawfully crossing the street, failure to operate his car with due regard for the safety of pedestrians, operating his car so as to

Canadians Claim Nothing New Given Probers by Ex-Spy

OTTAWA, Ont. (AP)—The Canadian Press says the U.S. Senate's internal security subcommittee "did not obtain a single scrap of new information" in its widely publicized secret interview with Igor Gouzenko Jan. 4 and has not so far acknowledged permission from Canada, tendered three weeks ago, to make public his testimony.

The news agency quoted an unidentified informant on this turn in the case of Gouzenko, the former cipher clerk in the Soviet Embassy here whose evidence in 1946 exposed a Soviet spy ring in Canada.

Canadian government officials maintained before the U.S. senators quizzed Gouzenko at a rendezvous in eastern Canada that he had no new information to give them.

Democrats Rap Charges On Reds in Government

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats snapped back today at accusations by Republicans that the Truman administration had opened the government's gates to Communists who betrayed security secrets to Moscow.

Sen. Jenner (R-Ind) fanned the mounting political fires anew with a declaration in St. Paul, Minn., last night that when the GOP took over last year it found "heaps of evidence of the stupidity, the corruption, even the treason of its predecessors."

Tampered With Security

He said the New Deal and "Fair Deal" had "even tampered with the security of the United States and permitted traitors to bring us close to military defeat."

Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) replied in an interview he believes the people generally will resent such campaign talk, made at a Lincoln Day banquet.

"This kind of thing is an insult to the intelligence of the American people," Gore declared. "Deplorable as such tactics are, they are likely to have at least one good result—a Democratic victory next November."

Jenner's speech followed Democratic demands in Congress for President Eisenhower to speak out on what House Minority Leader Rayburn of Texas called "mean, untrue and dastardly" statements about his party.

Symington Answers

In the Senate, Sen. Symington (D-Mo) declared that "vicious and untruthful attacks" are being made by high administration officials and that they may bring national disunity which "can only play directly into the hands of a possible enemy."

Rayburn bore down in a House speech on an assertion by Sherman Adams, chief of the White House staff, that "political sadists" are trying to foist a "Fear Deal" off on the country.

Rayburn said tartly that the Democrats are getting tired of being called Communist or being accused of being tinged with communism.

Declaring that such statements are "mean, they are untrue and they are dastardly," Rayburn said, "They should be stopped by somebody and there's one man in the United States who can stop them."

Asks Ike To Speak Out

Symington said it's time for Eisenhower to "tell the people his position with respect to the unjust attacks now being carried on by mny Republicans, including members of his White House staff and his Cabinet."

Young Speeder Faces Another Traffic Charge

A Magnetic Springs youth who Saturday night led police of three cities on a 100-mile-an-hour chase from Delaware to Bucyrus, today is being held in the Marion County Detention home facing numerous charges of traffic law violations.

In addition to charges of speeding, crashing traffic lights, and resisting arrest, he also will be charged with making a false statement to obtain a driver's license.

Police Chief Thomas Coon said Clifton Eugene Kinnear apparently gave his age as 18 to obtain his driver's license but police have learned he is actually only 17.

Kinnear was arrested in Bucyrus by Marion police Saturday night after he sped through Delaware and Marion at speeds between 80 and 90 miles an hour. He was followed from Delaware to Marion by a state highway patrolmen who was joined in Marion by two city police cruisers.

Police said Kinnear by-passed two roadblocks in Marion and one in Bucyrus before he was stopped. He also collided with a Marion police cruiser about two and one-half miles north of the city on Route 4 and failed to stop despite warning shots fired by Patrolman Lowell Titus and Homer Watson.

Police Chief Coon said today Juvenile Officer Virgil Campbell would file charges in Marion County Juvenile Court. Delaware police and the state highway patrol also have indicated they will file charges against him for traffic violations in Delaware and on Route 23 between Delaware and Marion.

Concert Presented by Lecture-Recital Youth Group

ANNUAL PUBLIC CONCERT of the Lecture-Recital Club Youth Group was held last night at Hotel Harding with 13 members taking part, including nine high school seniors who were giving their final performances with the group before their graduation. A varied program of instrumental and vocal music was presented under direction of Mrs. T. L. Berg, club counselor.

Young guest musician from Ashland who appeared was David Richards, a piano pupil of Miss Elizabeth Pastor of the Ashland College Music Department, and a state "superior" rating winner. Also a guest was Miss Kay Montgomery, pianist.

Members not present for the picture were Sandra Patterson, Sally Shirk, Alinda Temple, and Rebecca Scheifler. Accompanists with the group were Mrs. Berg, Mrs. Gerald Jennings and Carolyn Jones.

Welcome was given by the president, Joan Neidhart, and she introduced Mrs. J. F. Lacey, program chairman of the Lecture-Recital Club, who spoke briefly and introduced in turn Mrs. Mills of Marion, Ohio Federation of Music Clubs junior group counselor.

In addition to remarks concerning youth musicianship, Mrs. Mills announced that the local group has been invited to give a dramatic presentation at the district meeting at Mt. Vernon. The production will be an adaptation by Mrs. Berg from Kathleen Lawrence's version of "Much Ado About Nothing." State festival for this year will be held April 3 at Capital University in Columbus, Mrs. Mills said. Sally Schneider will appear on the formal program the afternoon of the festival. Tryouts for membership in the club were announced for Feb. 19 at the home of Mrs. Berg on Mt. Vernon Ave.

Police, Patrol List 3 Mishaps

Two Autos Damaged In Center St. Collision

Three accidents were reported today by Marion police and state highway patrolmen from the Marion post.

The one city accident involved cars driven by Forest M. Lust, 18, of near Nevada and Delbert Boyles, 54, of 182 Lincoln Ave. They collided on W. Center St. at Campbell St. Monday at 10:34 p.m.

The entire front end of the Boyles car was damaged while there was damage to the tail pipe, trunk lid, rear bumper and panel of the Lust car.

Both cars were headed west on Center St.

Boyles was arrested on a charge of failure to display his Ohio operator's license following the accident and was to appear in Municipal Court today.

Car-Bus Collision

No one was injured in a bus-car collision reported today by the Marion post of the state highway patrol.

At 1:50 p.m. yesterday a Greyhound bus driven by John Bednarski, 34, of Ambridge Pa., was slowing down to stop just west of the Marion-Morrow county line, when a car driven by William H. Denzer, 32, of Newark, ran into the rear of the bus. The bus received very light damage, while the front end of the Denzer car was moderately damaged. No one was injured. Denzer was charged with failure to stop with assured clear distance ahead, and cited to appear Feb. 22 before Mayor Emery M. Murphy of Mt. Gilead.

One person was slightly injured in a second accident reported by state patrolmen. At 1:30 p.m. yesterday, a car driven by Hubert Lyons, 28, of Mansfield went out of control while attempting to pass another car on Route 42, just south of Cardington and ran into a ditch, the state officers reported. Considerable damage was done to the frame and front end of Lyons' car and he suffered a bruised nose and lacerations of the face. He was treated by a Cardington doctor and released.

Promotion Project

Local Dairymen Launch Program To Cut Surplus

A milk sales promotion campaign to help eliminate a surplus of dairy products has been set up by the Marion Milk Producers Association, Inc., a group of county dairymen.

All farmers participating in this "self help" program will contribute two cents per hundred weight of milk sold to a fund to be used in stimulating milk sales. Milk retailers are to match the dairymen's contributions dollar for dollar.

BETWEEN $2,000 and $2,500 has been pledged so far and the goal is $5,000.

Some 90 milk producers have joined the association and approximately 400 producers in the Marion area are reported to be interested in the program. Many of the dairymen in the six surrounding counties who ship milk to Marion, although not members of the association, have agreed to contribute to the program, which is called the only one of its kind in the state.

Local dairymen came up with their idea for a self-help program when the department of agriculture informed them they would have to work out their own program. A year ago, the local dairymen started an investigation as to what could be done. Working through the Dairy Service Unit of the County Agriculture Extension Service, it was decided a Milk Producers Association would be a more logical group to take over the milk marketing problem. Last Thursday, the group was re-organized to start the program.

THE LOCAL PROGRAM is under the direction of the association in cooperation with the Marion Dairy Service Cooperative, Marion Holstein Club and all other dairy groups in the county.

The Ohio State University has agreed to cooperate with the Marion County Extension Service, producers and dairies in the project. Speakers from there will talk on the program at service club meetings, in schools and on various programs. The American Dairymen's Association, a national group is expected to help in the project through research and statistics.

William Knowles of Kirkpatrick was elected president of the assobers are William Earl of near Marion and Gomer Johnson of New Bloomington, whose terms expire in October, 1956.

Other board members are Robert Zieg and William Rasey of the Pleasant district and Marlow Zachman of Mt. Vernon Ave., whose terms expire in October, 1955; Paul Dasher of the Grand Prairie district, Herb Woleslagel of the Prospect district and Paul C. Lawrence of east of Marion, whose terms expire in October, 1954.

Airman 2.C. Huey Montgomery, 20, Eldridge, Ala., who was also sitting on a pile of baggage about level with a window:

"All of a sudden the plane dropped hard and then came back up again. I heard an explosion and found myself in the air."

Airman 2.C. Edward W. Olson, 20, Elkader, Iowa, who was dozing at the time, said he awoke to find himself sailing through the air.

Airman 1.C. Bobby Sallis, 21, West Helena, Ark., said he found himself projected suddenly into the air after "the plane just disintegrated."

LaDuke, Sallis and Montgomery were picked up at the site of the wrecked plane. They had joined after reaching the ground and walked through snow to the smashed craft for arctic survival gear and food rations.

The other three were spotted 15 miles from the wreckage.

Food Licensing Class Attended By Sanitarians

Marion County Sanitarian Ralph H. Augenstein went back to school this week for a brief course of study, Dr. Bret B. Hurd, county health commissioner, reported Augenstein is spending two weeks in Delaware studying the latest concepts and techniques of food service sanitation.

Sponsored by the Ohio Department of Health, the school is designed to improve the competence of local sanitarians doing food service operation inspections under a new state law.

Dr. Hurd stated that good food service sanitarians require considerable specialized knowledge and experience. "Through these schools we hope to render better service to the dining-out public of Marion County," he explained.

The health commissioner cited local inspections and licensing of food service operations as a definite step forward in community health protection. "The knowledge and techniques our sanitarian acquires at this school can be considered a direct dividend to the people of this county," he declared. He described its goal as "safe and sanitary surroundings and procedures wherever food is served to the public."

Dr. Hurd declared that food service sanitation measures are of benefit to the food service industry as well as the general public. He pointed out that special training schools will prepare the sanitarian to give help to the industry on operational problems.

Legislation passed by the 100th Ohio General Assembly transferred licensing and inspection of food establishments from the state fire marshal's office to local boards of health.

key to the Suong, which empties into the Mekong a few miles north of Luang Prabang.

In Luang Prabang all able-bodied men were ordered to dig shelters against mortar fire and build defense works. Government workers were enlisted for civilian defense and firefighting work. The beating of gongs in the sacred pagodas was to be the signal for the danger alert.

The King's son, Prince Savang, in a public statement declared the fall of Luang Prabang to the Communist-led forces "would not only be a national catastrophe but would have enormous repercussions on world opinion."

"In defending Luang Prabang," he added, "we are protecting the gateway to Thailand, Burma and all Southeast Asia."

Meanwhile, most of the city's inhabitants remained calm and went about their business as usual.

In Saigon, meanwhile, French Defense Minister Rene Pleven arrived from Paris and said cryptically: "I've come to confer with the military leaders on questions which could lead to rapid solutions."

Many observers have speculated that the Vietminh invasion of Laos is designed to secure the rebels as much territory as possible before the spring rains to bolster the Red high command in any peace negotiations which may develop.

Vote Machines

Commissioner Ray Reidenbaugh said commissioners were convinced of the advantages of obtaining an accurate and speedy count with the use of voting machines, but wanted to know how they could be assured that all those wanting to vote could do so on the machines. He said commissioners had been told by officials from "several counties" that the use of voting machines actually slowed down the voting procedure.

Patrick replied that 1,286 persons voted on two machines in one precinct in a recent Indiana election in which a straight ticket ballot was employed. Ohio uses the office-type ballot.

Doubts Savings

The question of how long it would take for voters to learn to use voting machines was brought up by Reidenbaugh, who repeated a statement made earlier by commissioners that "if you can actually show me a $10,000 annual savings, we'd be silly not to buy them."

Members of both boards agreed that a program to educate citizens on how to use the machines would be a necessity before the full advantage of the machines could be realized. Stief pointed out that both companies which manufacture voting machines conduct an extensive program of instructing voters in their use. Patrick added that he had heard of one county where commissioners leased machines and then "the people didn't want to give them up."

Favoring the leasing of voting machines, McCurdy remarked that that way "the people could try them and then they would know whether they like them."

Stafford said he gathered that "commissioners are against voting machines on any basis."

Denied by Commissioners

This was emphatically denied by all three commissioners who continued to maintain that they were for adoption of voting machines if they could be convinced that a saving would result from their use and if they thought the voters really wanted them.

Stafford said that the board of elections had "undertaken to prove that use of voting machines would save money and would be a more efficient way of conducting elections."

Backing their contention that they would sign notes to acquire voting machines if they felt the people wanted them, Reidenbaugh reminded the group that the commissioners were the "custodians of the money" but added that they "would sign the notes if the people want them."

Urging elections officials to "place yourselves in our shoes," Reidenbaugh asked them, "Would you want us to indebt the county $111,650 if we thought that the voters didn't want that?"

10 Counties Okay Machines

Commissioners asked how many Ohio counties had adopted voting machines, and Stief replied that nine had approved their use, with a 10th county, Ross, approving their use only last month.

Referring to previous attempts to approve use of machines in the county, Reidenbaugh told the group that "I was one of the commissioners in favor of voting machines, but when I look around and see that the saving is not there, I begin to wonder."

"Why do only 9 out of 88 counties have them?" he asked.

Stief replied that "not every county would necessarily have this kind of saving," again pointing out that Marion County's saving would result in being able to consolidate precincts and be kept from having to add the 18 additional precincts.

Commissioners were asked by Mrs. Robert Axe, president of the Marion League of Women Voters, if they would be willing to submit the question of voting machines alone on the ballot. McCurdy and Reidenbaugh indicated they would be willing to do this, but Commissioner Luther Mitchell said he would be in favor of asking voters also to approve a levy to finance the purchase of the machines.

The question of whether 77 machines would be enough for Marion County was voiced by both Reidenbaugh and Mitchell.

Stief said elections board members arrived at the 77 figure from voter statistics on file at the elections office and said that he felt this was a true picture, barring any new development in voting laws, such as the admission of 18-year-olds to the voting ranks.

Reidenbaugh then asked why the elections board two or three years ago had felt that 55 machines would be sufficient for the county. Patrick, in answering this question, cited voter registration figures of 13,373 during 1942 in comparison with 23,623 persons registered for 1952.

At the conclusion of the meeting, commissioners asked the elections board to supply information on the cost of leasing machines.

A meeting of representatives from the two boards and a voting machine manufacturing company was tentatively scheduled for next week in an effort to compile this information.

endanger the life of Mrs. Baker, and failure to operate his car safely and at a speed in which he could stop within the assured clear distance ahead.

The fatal accident occurred as Mrs. Baker and a companion, Martin Rice, 46, also of Silver St. were crossing Davids St. and Thompson was driving north on Davids after making a left turn from Bellefontaine Ave. Rice received only minor injuries and was released after treatment at city hospital.

Thompson later told police he could not see the pedestrians in time to avoid hitting them because he was blinded by head lights of approaching automobiles.

Rice told police he and Mrs. Baker were three-fourths of the way across the street when struck and did not see Thompson's car approaching.

Employe Badly Injured in Ditch Work Accident

Joseph Evans, 36, of 255 Park Blvd, was seriously injured Monday while at work on a job for the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. with which he is employed as a welder.

He was on hand at the sewer construction job at the corner of Mt. Vernon and Merchant Aves., protecting the lines for the gas firm, when one caterpillar of a power shovel being used to dig a ditch struck and knocked him down and ran up his left leg past the knee.

Evans had been standing in the ditch in front of the shovel and the machine operator, having finished a load, started backing the machine to dig again. Unable to see directly below and close to the shovel, the operator did not know Evans was standing near by.

In the accident, which occurred about 8.35 a.m., Evans suffered a shattered pelvis and crushed left ankle and heel. It has been estimated he will be in the hospital from two to three months. His condition, according to hospital attendants, is "fair."

The sewer under construction is for the Claridon Ditch.

Democrats

"If he endorsed them, should he not so tell the American people, and why?" Symington demanded. "If he does not endorse them, then those of us who believe this growing discord is affecting the security of the United States have the right to ask what he intends to do about it."

He said he didn't think it "either fair or proper for the President, dependent on the patriotism and support of Democratic members of Congress, to continue to permit not only his party leaders, but even members of his own official family, to smear these same Democrats whose support he knows he must have."

Symington accused Atty. Gen. Brownell; Bernard M. Shanley, presidential counsel; Postmaster General Summerfield; Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York; and Carlton G. Ketchum, chairman of the Republican Finance Committee, of making false statements that 1,456 "subversives" had been eliminated from government rolls.

The Missouri senator said the 1,456 included many transferred to other jobs, some who died, some who resigned with no charges against them and some who were eliminated by "reductions in force."

The announced number of separations under the security program has since been raised to 2,200. Eisenhower has said efforts are being made to determine whether it is possible to provide a breakdown.

Rep. Rhodes (D-Pa) introduced three resolutions in the House calling for a breakdown of the 2,200 figure and Clayton Firtchey, deputy national Democratic chairman, said Democrats "are never going to stop talking" about the issue.

Charter

was felt that since they wished to impose no limitation on the number of terms, any mention of it at all was superfluous.

Removal of Manager

The question of removal of city manager and city solicitor by the council was discussed. The problem here was whether such removal should be made by a majority or two-thirds vote of council. The decision was delayed until a later meeting, when more commission members will be present.

Considerable discussion was given to the qualifications of the proposed director of finance and the assistant director of finance. The commission agreed first that some mention should be made of their qualifications, at least in broad terms. Then, it was tentatively agreed to use, with revisions, phraseology suggested by the Sandusky charter: These officers should be qualified by "education or experience." The Sandusky charter had read "education and experience." The Marion commission changed the "and" to "or."

Knotty Problem

A knotty problem for the commission was the question of who was to supervise the proposed finance officers, council or the city manager. Some members felt that since the finance officers were appointed by the council they should be responsible to that body. Others held that such a policy would tend to undermine the authority of the city manager. Decision again was delayed until a later meeting. The commission, however, did accept the tentative draft that financial reports be submitted at the request of council rather than at stipulated intervals. It was felt regular reports would be unnecessary and burdensome.

Commission members Lawrence M. Sager and George Jonsson were appointed a committee of two to investigate the present civil service set-up of the city government. Their report will cover any weaknesses in or dissatisfactions with the present system.

even for such talks, they are said to be insisting on a prior show of good faith by Red China, such as cooperation in settling Korea's future.

Thus, if the Communists were willing, Dulles might arrange through Molotov another conference away from Panmunjom to set up a preliminary Korea peace conference. The Panmunjom talks would quietly drift into history—still stalled but bypassed and of no importance.

Parking

proposals. This portion of Olney Ave. is now one-way south.

Councilman - at - large Warren Diehl questioned the need for any action at the present. He said he felt present ordinances providing for the three-hour parking ban and towing of parked cars should be proved either workable or unworkable before further steps are taken. He also called for a "definite statement from the police that they cannot enforce the three-hour parking ban."

Harold Fralich, sixth ward, said police had made such a statement at meetings of Council last fall after the plan was used on a 90-day trial basis.

Coon Heard

Police Chief Thomas Coon was called in and asked whether police could enforce the present no-parking rule through use of the towing and impounding ordinance. Coon said that by the time all of the cars parked illegally were towed away most of the three hours would be gone.

Fralich said this would still defeat the purpose of the parking ban of clearing the street to provide an additional traffic lane.

Councilman-at-Large Robert G. Haldeman said he felt that it would not be necessary to tow away all parked cars each day. "after one or two is pulled away each day for a week or so, people will stop parking there," Haldeman said.

Fifth Ward Councilman Don Quaintance said he felt that a public meeting should be held before any further action is taken. All sides of the problem should be discussed and Council should decide what action to take, then stick by its decision he said.

Fralich said he felt some action should be taken soon because the existing parking ban has put both Council and the police department in embarrassing positions. He said even though police have ticketed some 2,500 cars, he still gets calls asking why the parking ban is not enforced.

First Ward Councilman Harold Smith moved the report of the streets and alleys committee be accepted and filed. The motion passed by a 7-2 vote.

Negative Votes

Both Fralich and Lister voted against the motion and criticized Council for not taking some more positive action. Lister accused Council of delaying action because of "small pressure groups."

Fralich agreed with this and added Council should not back down after it once decides to take action. He recalled that Council once proposed to make Prospect and State Sts. one-way then dropped the idea when a "few people complained."

No action was taken on proposals to hold a public meeting to discuss what action to take.

Extradition Proceedings Waived by Marion Man

Extradition proceedings were waived by J. D. Ritchie, 48, of 888 N. Main St., when he appeared in Common Pleas Court Monday afternoon. He was apprehended Friday by the sheriff's office on a governor's warrant from Florida to Ohio. Authorities in Suwannee County, Florida, will be notified that they can return Ritchie to face a grand jury indictment on grand larceny there. Ritchie is being held in the Marion County jail.

TV Comedian Stars in Real Life Triangle

NEW YORK (AP) — TV comedian Jackie Gleason starred in a real life triangle in a squabble between his estranged wife and a shapely dancer in his hospital room, the New York Daily Mirror reported today.

The wife dropped in Sunday to see Gleason in Doctors Hospital where he was propped up with a broken leg.

She found Jackie already had a visitor, Marilyn Taylor, a dancer on his show, the newspaper related, and pow!, away they went!

The Mirror said Gleason lost his temper enough to demand a divorce of his wife, Genevieve, but he cooled off later and said because of religious reasons he would never seek one.

School

dent during that time. City school superintendent Lester L. Dickey said that the city's Parent Teacher Associations have endorsed the insurance program.

Discussion of noon lunch periods in the city's school system was thrown open for comments from parents and residents who attended the meeting. General opinion of the shorter lunch periods at the schools seemed to be that the students are adjusting to the change in the eating schedules and that most unfavorable comments about the program faded away as time progressed. However, the board decided to continue studying the matter until something better can be worked out.

Also on the board's agenda for Monday night's meeting was a suggestion from the Y Men's Club that the organization might finance a recreation program on the elementary level for the west end pupils and a letter from Ohio Northern University at Ada requesting that an extension program be started here. The board took no action on the Y Men's Club suggestion, while Superintendent Dickey was asked to investigate the possibility of having the extension courses offered for city teachers.

A letter was read from the Bird-McGinnis Post of the American Legion requesting use of Harding Stadium in June for a program of the Mid-West Drum and Bugle Corps Association. The matter was referred to the high school athletic board.

The board approved resignations of the following teachers: John Gries, Harding High instructor, effective Jan. 22; Mrs. Delores Cover, second grade teacher at N. Main Street School, effective Feb. 15; and Mrs. Joan Boblenz, receptionist and clerk at the school administration building, March 3. Approval of the following employments was made: Mrs. Arlie Koons, replacing Mr. Gries for the remainder of the year; Miss Gloria Conner, first grade teacher at Mark Street School; and Mrs. June Cox, replacing Mrs. Cover at the N. Main Street building.

E. Paul Huffman, business manager, gave a report on the Hartford Insurance Co. boiler inspection in which all of the boilers in the city schools were declared to be in good condition.

Charles Harmon, president of the board, suggested that a discussion of the school system's religious education program be included in the next meeting.

Detroit Recluse Found Wealthy

Woman in Tatters Hoards Half-Million

DETROIT (AP)—A fortune in cash and securities — perhaps a hoard totaling half a million dollars—has been found in the cluttered flat home of 86-year-old Mrs. Carrie Wherritt.

Widowed Mrs. Wherritt, a rags-wearing recluse, was disclosed in a police search Sunday to be a wealthy woman instead of the nearly impoverished person as neighbors knew her.

Mrs. Wherritt, beaten brutally by burglars who tried to ransack her place last week, was in serious condition at receiving hospital today.

Police, after their discovery, said Mrs. Wherritt escaped with her life only because the marauders evidently didn't know of her actual wealth.

In a safe in her flat police found $291,800 in cash. They said there was at least that much or more in securities.

5,000 Without Homes in Wake Of Earthquake

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Fears of a heavy death toll in the earthquake-shattered region of Chiapas state in southern Mexico, diminished Monday as new reports trickled in from the remote mountain region. But 5,000 families were believed homeless following the severe shock Friday.

The quake centered in a 50-mile-wide coffee producing area 60 miles west of the Guatemalan border. Four towns were reported devastated.

Chiapas State Gov. Efrain Aranda Osorio said yesterday telephone reports from four mayors in the hardest-hit region did not list any fatalities.

Officials said the light construction of village houses probably accounted for the lack of heavy casualties although damage was estimated at 20 million pesos (23 million dollars).

Revolutionary Money, Old Report Card Found

MILL GROVE, N. Y. (UP) — A two-dollar bill from the revolutionary war and a report card dated 1826 were uncovered when carpenters removed a wall in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Coulson.

The bill, issued by the Continental Congress in 1776, is believed to be worth only 50 cents to $1, according to Harold Hopple, national representative of the Four County Coin Club. Hopple said that at the time the bill came out the 13 states were printing their own money, and the bills were responsible for the phrase "not worth a continental."

A report card of Carolina Case stated she "payed (sic) good attention to her studies through the present school and, in doing that, merits the esteem of her instructor, G. Hyram Cunningham." Caroline is believed to have been the daughter of an early settler in the community.

Livestock Association To Hold Annual Meeting on Wednesday

The annual meeting of the Marion branch of the Producers Livestock Cooperative Association will be held Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Pleasant Township School.

A report will be made on the local market and consolidated producers operations by the local management and representatives of the Columbus office.

Four persons will be elected to the local advisory committee. Candidates include Robert Isler of Prospect, John W. Jones of Prospect, Ed Schweinfurth of LaRue, Marrill T. Hickman of LaRue, John Fairchild of near Marion, Clyde Beaver of near Marion and Carl Rider of Marion.

Howard Davison, head of the swine division of the Eastern Order Buying Co., will discuss "What's Ahead for Hog Producers." H. M. Leitnaker of the same company will disucss the beef cattle trends for 1954 while Josef Louis of the company will discuss the sheep and wool outlook.

Entertainment will include accordion numbers by Mrs. Charles Mautz of near Marion, tenor solos by Walter Prather of Newark, and a number, "Rose Pose Twirlettes" by Phyllis Sharp and Rosemary Mautz, who are students at Ohio State University.

Refreshments will be served. All patrons of the local market and their families are invited to attend.

Sale of livestock in 1953 by the Producers Livestock Cooperative Association markets in this area totaled 3,642,828 head valued at more than $169,000,000, F. G. Ketner, secretary - treasurer and general manager, has announced.

Producers operates 17 markets in Ohio, two in Indiana and one in Pennsylvania. Sales last year topped all other years and represented a gain of more than 121,000 head over 1952. Receipts of cattle, calves and sheep showed gains, but hog numbers were lower than in 1952, due to decreased swine production throughout the corn belt.

Receipts in 1953 consisted of 2,315,256 hogs, 899,779 sheep and lambs, 281 511 cattle and 142 289 veal calves

Ketner listed as significant accomplishments the addition of a new market at Upper Sandusky and a major addition to the Bucyrus stockyard.

Meeker Becomes Tournament's First Upset Victim

Trojans Fall to Claridon; Other Seeded Teams Win

Three of the four seeded teams came through in the opening session of the Marion County basketball tournament last night before 2,023 fans at the Coliseum.

Top-seeded Morral edged Pleasant 53-47, Claridon upended third-seeded Meeker 44-39; second-seeded Prospect downed Waldo 57-48; and fourth-seeded LaRue blasted New Bloomington 60-43.

LaRue's win shot it all the way into the tourney semi-finals next Tuesday while the other three winners last night must post victories this week to reach that stage.

Play Wednesday

Action Wednesday night will have Pleasant meeting Waldo in the opening game at 5:30 p.m. and Meeker taking on New Bloomington at 6:45 p.m. in a pair of consolation contests.

In two championship bracket games, Morral will oppose Martel at 8 p.m. and Claridon will meet Caledonia in the nightcap at 9:15. Martel and Caledonia will be making their first tourney starts after drawing opening round byes.

Bob Rodgers led Prospect, co-champions of the league, to its win over Waldo.

The tall center was in Waldo's hair all evening, grabbing rebounds and dropping in 10 field goals and the same number of foul shots for 30 points before he left on his fifth personal foul with Prospect leading 56-48 with one minute remaining.

Waldo stayed right on Prospect's heels most of the way. Trailing only 37-34 at the three-quarter mark, Waldo fell behind by 10 before rallying to trim the Prospect bulge to 51-47 with 2:11 remaining in the contest.

Then Ronald Wood dropped in a free throw, Rodgers a rebound shot and Don Krawczyk a long shot at the 1:21 mark for a 56-47 edge to put the game on ice.

Waldo Rallies

Behind 24-21 at halftime after trailing most of the way, Waldo came within a point of the winners three times early in the third stanza but each time Rodgers and Tom Hickman would dump in points to keep Prospect ahead.

Keith Augenstein, Waldo's ace rebounder and scorer, hit on a fielder midway in the third period to the Prospect lead to 29-28 but that was as close as Waldo got the rest of the game.

Waldo's hopes took a dip early in the final period when both Augenstein and Don Yake, Waldo's other scoring ace, both fouled out within two minutes of the fourth canto while guarding Rodgers.

When Augenstein left at 6:20, Waldo had crept to within four points of the Bulldogs at 49-36. Prospect quickly moved ahead 48-38 before Waldo led by Bradford Brady, Rex Henry and Stan Yake, pulled back within four points of the winners but the Waldo surge fell short.

Hickman with 10 points was next best to Rodgers. Three players — George, Don and Stan Yake — all had eight points for the losers while Brady and Henry added seven apiece.

LaRue pulled away late in the opening period after trailing thrice to roll by New Bloomington.

Indians Move

The game was close for the first five minutes but LaRue snapped a 7-7 tie to move ahead for keeps.

Paced by David Johnson and Bob Schwaderer, New Bloomington stayed with LaRue until slightly over two minutes remained in the first canto when Larry Hickman drove in for a layup and added the foul shot resulting from the play for a 10-7 bulge.

LaRue pulled out front 13-9 at the end of the first quarter and extended its lead to 21-11 before a New Bloomington rally sliced the LaRue margin to four points for the third time.

The surge reached its climax when Richard Lyon took a long pass and laid the ball in to slice the Indians' lead to 22-18 with two minutes remaining in the quarter.

A LaRue spurt put the winners in command 26-19 at intermission and they quickly began widening.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

When the Johnstown Jets invade the Coliseum rink on Wednesday, Feb. 24, Marion hockey fans will be given the chance to show their appreciation for the Baron's sparkling rise to second place in the league standings.

SHORT

On that night "Hockey Appreciation Night" will be observed. Members of the squad will be honored by what club officials hope will be the biggest crowd of the season. The game itself, should the two teams keep up their present pace, will be a battle for second place. Marion currently holds a three-point margin over the Jets, who are deadlocked with Toledo for third place.

A FULL program has been lined up for the fans including a free skating session on the Coliseum ice. Actually the program has not been completed but will be lined up within the next few days.

A special meeting has been scheduled for Thursday night at the Coliseum offices at which time officials of the Barons will meet with civic, business and industrial leaders to discuss plans for the night.

Members of at least four Marion service clubs may be asked to furnish entertainment during the two intermissions.

SEVERAL REASONS have been advanced for the Appreciation Night observance but the main one, according to Tony Hemmerling, general manager, is the steadily increasing interest on the part of Marion residents. Tony reports the fan interest has grown "leaps and bounds" since the campaign opened.

The jump made by the Barons from their slow start has been the talk of the league during recent weeks. Bill Seifers of the Fort Wayne, Ind., Journal Gazette, while taking a telephone report of Sunday's game here, remarked he found it hard to believe the Barons had come so far. He credited Ott Heller, Lou Crowdis and Ken Schultz with being the biggest factors in the rise. Their steadying influence on the younger players, Siefers said, has been extremely valuable.

NO GAGNE. During the last few days, The Star sports department has been bombarded with calls wanting to know when Verne Gagne was to wrestle at the Marion armory. He as supposed to have made the statement on a television wrestling show that he was appearing here.

We contacted Les Fishbaugh to confirm the date and Les reports its a rumor only. No booking here has been arranged for Gagne but Fishbaugh is interested. "I'm trying very hard to get him," Les reported. Thus far, however, nothing has developed.

Southpaw pitcher Fred Baczewski of the Cincinnati Redlegs started four games against the New York Giants in 1953 and won all four.

Irish Seeking 4th in Row, Will Entertain Johnsville

St. Mary and Harding resume basketball action tonight as both quintets push toward the end of their regularly scheduled seasons.

The Irish are at home entertaining Johnsville at the Coliseum while Jim Lawler's Prexies travel to Shelby for a return engagement with the Whippets.

Coach Ray Robbins' forces, with three straight wins and eight in their last nine outings will be out to improve their 11-5 mark while Harding, 6-9 for the season, will be after its seventh victory after dropping nine of its last 11 contests.

Harding will be bidding for its second victory over the Whippets. In the earlier meeting here, Harding snapped a five-game losing streak which followed four successive opening season wins by trimming Shelby 67-59.

The Irish will be meeting a formidable foe in Johnsville, the defending Morrow County league champs. The Johnnies finished behind only Chesterville, 10-1, in county league action with a 9-3 rating.

Shelby will likely go with Wincel Ingram, 5-7, and Dick Reed, 5-8, at the guards; Nick Davies, 6-2, at center; and Roger Payne, 5-10, and Don Bucknam, 6-1, at forwards. Sixth and seventh men are Eddie Davis, 5-9½, and Dick Cecil, 6-2.

Bucknam has been Shelby's big gun in games to date while Ingram has also hit consistently. In the previous meeting with Harding, each collected 16 points while Reed and Davies each totaled 11.

In Shelby's last outing, Friday against Bellevue, Ingram popped in 41 points for a new school record. Wearing a nose mask to protect a fractured nose which had been operated on earlier in the week, the speedy guard hit on 17 field goals in 39 trys and added seven charity tosses in eight attempts in the 80-72 loss to Bellevue.

Shelby takes an 8-5 mark into the battle with Harding.

Johnsville, the Irish opponent, will probably go with Lyle Snavely and Glen Myers at the forwards, Rinehart at center, and Clayton Fry and Arden Walker at the guards.

In their last outing with Iberia, the Johnnies were led in scoring by Myers with 23 and Snavely with 15. Bachelder, a substitute forward, dumped in 10 while Walker hit for nine. Johnsville went into the game against Iberia with a previous 101-78 victory.

Prior to the game with Iberia, Johnsville had beaten Edison 77-58, lost to Chesterville 65-61 and then beaten Marengo 63-52.

Harding will be out to get back in the winning column after winning once and dropping two one-point decisions in its last three games.

After a 63-62 loss to Bowling Green, Harding came back to trim Galion for the second time 78-62 but then lost last Friday night to Findlay 55-54.

Both local quintets will see more action later in the week. Harding will entertain Fostoria in a Buckeye League game here Friday while Delaware Willis comes in to battle the Irish Saturday night at the Coliseum.

Following action this week, Harding will have games remaining with Fremont there Feb. 19 and Tiffin Columbian here Feb. 26. The Irish will conclude their regular season next week by traveling to Fredericktown Feb. 16 and entertaining Marysville here Feb. 19.

Then St. Mary will prepare for its opening tourney start in the parochial and exempted village tournament at Westerville against Granville Feb. 24. A win would advance the locals into district play either at Westerville or Columbus.

Battle Royal Tops Armory Mat Card

Five matches will be presented on the Thursday night wrestling card at the armory, Promoter Les Fishbaugh announced today. The card will include a six-man battle royal.

Getting the program under way at 8:30 will be three one-fall bouts. Billy Fox will meet Bowery Boy Jack and Scotty Williams will go against Bowery Boy Hurley while Gino Angelo is booked against Ricky Waldo.

Following these matches, the six grapplers will return to the ring at one time. The match will continue until only one man is left in the ring.

Jim Lewis and Aztec Garcia are booked in the finale of the program. The two met last week and Garcia won when he took advantage of Lewis in the final fall. Lewis was helping the referee to his feet when Garcia grabbed him with a Mexican Hangman's hold forcing Lewis to submit.

Don Newcombe Released, Signs Brooklyn Pact

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Don Newcombe and Sal Maglie will be back on the mound this season.

Both pitchers, on whose strong right arms may rest the outcome of the National League pennant race, signed their 1954 contracts yesterday.

Newcombe, who won 20 games in 1951, came to terms with the Brooklyn Dodgers immediately upon his release from the Army. As usual, the amount he will receive was not disclosed. But Buzzy Bavarsi, the club's vice president, indicated he got a sizable increase.

"I weigh 10 pounds less than when I finished the '51 season," Newcombe said. "I hope to shed 10 more pounds before I report for spring training. I'm looking forward to a good year and see no reason why I can't win 20 games again this year." His weight is 230 pounds now.

Maglie, who won 23 games for the New York Giants in 1951 and 18 the following year, slumped to an 8-9 record last season. He was bothered by a back ailment and there were some reports he might retire. Now, however, he reports he's "feeling better than I have in two years."

It was these two, you may recall, who started in the memorable play off game in 1951. Newcombe went 8 1-3 innings before he was replaced by the Ralph Branca, who gave up that dramatic home run to Bobby Thomson. Maglie hurled eight innings and left the game trailing 4-1. Larry Jansen received credit for the Giants' victory.

Several other National League clubs had some news from the contract-signing front.

The St. Louis Cardinals brought their total of satisfied players to 25 by adding six—rookie shortstop Alex Grammas, outfielder Rip Repulski, first sacker Fred Marolewski and right-handed pitchers Cloyd Boyer, Joe Presko and Stu Miller.

The Milwaukee Braves received utility infielder Sibby Sisti's signed contract and pitcher Paul Pettit and outfielder Gail Henley agreed to Pittsburgh's terms.

American Leaguers to sign were outfielder Vic Wertz of Baltimore and first baseman Earl York and outfielder Bill Wilson of the Chicago White Sox.

Toledo Sags

Barons, Johnstown Moving Higher in Hockey Scramble

CINCINNATI (AP) — Marion and Johnstown again are on the move in the ranks of the International Hockey League. But the league leaders, the Cincinnati Mohawks, are expected to withstand any concerted opposition.

In fact, the Mohawks are so powerful you can hear cries of "break 'em up" and "throw 'em out of the league" in some cities.

Cincinnati had no trouble in winning three games last week. The Mohawks shutout Grand Rapids 7-0 and Fort Wayne 5-0. It barely missed another whitewash job in a 9-1 whipping administered to Louisville. For Charlie Hodge, 20-year-old goalie, it was the seventh shutout of the year, an IHL record.

The Mohawks now lead by seven full games.

Marion displaced Toledo for second place on the strength of its 3 wins. The 2 squads battled twice, each winning on its home floor. The 3-2 edge over Marion was the lone Toledo victory in 3 games. Johnstown gained a third-place tie with the Mercurys by taking 3 out of 4.

There were no changes in the standings of the last five teams in the loop.

Last-place Milwaukee continued its surge with three wins, a tie and a loss. The Chiefs have added Maurice Parr, Maurice Lamirande and Rheal Charlebois. The Chiefs have little chance to enter the six-team playoffs.

Dayton Cager Sigus

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Don Miller, 20-year-old junior guard on the University of Dayton's basketball team, says he has signed a contract to play baseball with the Chicago White Sox and will drop out of school until the fall.

An outfielder, Miller said he will join the Colorado Springs club of the Class A Western League.

The "Big Three" of the Cleveland Indian pitching staff — Bob Lemon, Mike Garcia and Early Wynn — defeated the Yankees 11 times in 1953. They lost nine to the New Yorkers.

Hamilton, Lockland Wayne Cling to Lead in Cage Poll

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's 781 Class B high school basketball teams toss season records into the discard today as they dash into county tournaments to select some 250 survivors for sectional play

The huge contingent has until Feb 27 to decide the county titles, and the following week the qualifiers will join 283 Class A squads in the sectional tests From then on it's all tournament play until four Class A and four Class B squads meet in Cleveland March 26 27 for the state crowns.

As the teams came up to tournament time, Hamilton Public and Lockland Wayne continued to pace the two divisions of the weekly Associated Press poll of 36 sports writers

Delphos St John, second place in Class B and 1949 state champ forced Lockland Wayne into an overtime last week before succumbing but the pace-setting 1952 champs eked out a 50 48 victory It was St John's second loss in 20 contests.

Hamilton was an impressive 64-46 victor over Portsmouth's Trojans for the Big Blue's 16th win in 17 starts Their lone loss was at the hands of Lockland Wayne

Middletown state Class A champion the last 2 years and 5 of the last 10, enhanced its second place position by running up a 100-56 win over Lima Central Friday, and then tripping Richmond, Ind , 62-46 Saturday The century count against Lima was the highest in Middie history and it gave Coach Paul Walker his 150th win against 30 losses in less than 8 seasons

A week ago Hamilton had a 31-point lead over Middletown in the poll, but it was down to 9 points this time, despite the fact 13 of the 36 scribes picked Hamilton for the top spot and only 2 favored the Middies.

the gap in the third period.

With Raymond Hosey, Hickman and Gene Cooper supplying the scoring punch LaRue strode in front 35-21 before a mild New Bloomington rally cut the lead to 36-27 and then maintained anywhere from a 11 to 16 point advantage the rest of the route.

Both squads lost two men on fouls. Hosey and Guthery left for LaRue while Gracely and Schwaderer departed for the losers

In all, 21 infractions were called on New Bloomington and 18 were charged to LaRue

Gene Cooper was top man for LaRue with 15 points Hickman and Hosey each added 12 while Keith Cooper hit for 11 Floyd Beers with 12 points and Johnson with 11 paced the New Bloomington attack

Claridon avenged an earlier season three-point loss to Meeker in county league play with its slim victory over the third-seeded club

Hornets Rally

The winners came from behind at the beginning of the third stanza and went on from there to the victory Meeker led 25-20 at halftime but Claridon overcame it to hold a 33-31 bulge at the three-quarter mark

Bud Price, Gene Jessie and Gary Row led the taller team's third period surge with each dumping ina pair of baskets apiece Then Gene Castle took over the final period scoring duties.

Claridon jumped ahead 13-11 in the first quarter behind the play of Price, Jessie and Gary Row but then fell behind at intermission as Larry Sims shoved in three baskets to pace the Meeker attack. Ron Newland and Bob Johnson each contributed a bucket in the period while Dick Sharp shoved in a pair of charity tosses

Although a total of 18 personal fouls were charged to Claridon, only one player was lost via the foul route Jessie left at the 6 32 mark of the final period after shoving in 11 points.

Price also had 11 points for Claridon while Gary Row hit for eight and Castle for six.

Sims shoved in 14 points to lead the Trojan attack Newland pushed in 11 to aid the losers cause while Sharp had six and Johnson five.

Morral Extended

Morral's county league co-champions were forced to stave off a determined Pleasant squad led by Jerry Gorby and John Freshour for its opening round tourney win

The Wildcats held a commanding lead throughout the first half but suddenly found themselves leading only 47-41 at the three-quarter mark.

The losers came close in the final period but a pair of free throws at the 0 53 mark by Morral's Craycraft which shoved Morral in the drivers seat 52-47 cemented the win.

Each squad lost two cagers on personal fouls, with both Pleasant players leaving in the final period Gorby left with but 53 seconds to play while Stoner went out with only one second to go Morral lost Shifflet at the 2 13 mark of the last stanza.

Morral had previously lost Ted Murphy in the third period He left on his fifth personal at the 3 06 mark

With Clair Hensel and Junior Bell shouldering the load, Morral shot ahead 21-11 in the opening period and increased its margin to 36-25 at halftime Gorby kept Pleasant from falling behind further with his nine points in the second canto.

Then Pleasant began to slice the Morral lead with Gorby with seven points and Freshour with eight leading the losers to within six points of the Wildcats in the third period.

Hensel was Morral's big gun with 22 points, with Craycraft adding 14 Gorby shoved in 23 Pleasant points while Freshour ended up with 12.

OSU Hoopsters Drop Seventh In Loop Action

EVANSTON Ill (AP)—Ohio State, unable to beat any Big Ten basketball team except Purdue this year, is in ninth place in the conference standings today.

The Bucks started out in seventh last night but swapped positions with Northwestern by turning in an ineffectual performance and ending up on the short end of a 89-71 score

Ohio, twice victorious over Purdue now has a 2-7 loop mark, just a mite behind Northwestern, which has a 2-6 record

The continued sharpshooting of Robin Freeman whose long, fadeway one hand sets have made him one of the Big Ten's most dangerous scorers, was the only bright side to the Bucks poor showing The Cincinnati sophomore hit for 24 points

The Wildcats piled up their highest score of the year against Ohio State with forward Larry Kurka personally accounting for 26

Schlundt Nets 36 as Indiana Sinks Gophers

NEW YORK (AP)— Indiana's powerful basketball team isn't making much headway in the Associated Press poll, but the Hoosiers are hurrying steadily ahead towards another Big Ten title

Ever since a Christmas vacation loss to Oregon State the defending national champions have run third behind Kentucky and Duquesne in the weekly AP poll They can remedy the situation, of course, if they continue playing as they did last night in winning their eighth straight Big Ten game with a 90-77 conquest of challenging Minnesota

With 6-10 Don Schlundt and Bob Leonard teaming up perfectly, the Hoosiers looked capable of sweeping through again to the conference and NCAA championships That would probably settle the poll problem

No Indiana team has won two consecutive conference titles, nor gone through without a conference defeat, in the Big Ten's 49-year history Minnesota spoiled the perfect record last year, but the Gophers never had a chance last night as Schlundt hit on 11 field goals and 14 of 14 free throws for 36 points and Leonard added 18 besides directing the attack

Indiana has six more to go including one with second place Iowa, which made its record 7-1 by whaling Michigan 86-68 last night

Coach Adolf Rupp's unbeaten Kentucky team took no chances last night, employing only seven men while flattening Florida 97-55 for its 17th victory

Duquesne, ranked second with an 18 0 mark was idle, but fourth-ranked Oklahoma A&M almost suffered the fate which befell fifth ranked Western Kentucky Saturday night

The Aggies, heavily favored over Detroit, had to go into overtime before squeaking by with a 66-65 victory Detroit, which has won only one of seven Missouri Valley Conference games, blew the contest by missing six free throws in the last two minutes The Aggies lead the Valley league with 5 0 and are 19-1 on the season

Western Kentucky, meanwhile, snapped back from Saturday's upset loss to Eastern Kentucky by beating Morehead (Ky) 88 75 Tom Marshall, held to eight by Eastern tossed in 38 points

In the only other game involving top 10 teams, George Washington No. 10, trimmed spirited South Carolina 61-52 to make its record 14-1.

The Colonials lead the Southern Conference with a 7-0 record and face their big test tonight against Furman, which stretched its league record to 4 0 last night by whipping Richmond 97-76.

Duquesne Eyes Kentucky Grip On Court Lead

By BEN PHLEGAR

NEW YORK (AP)—Kentucky continued to win games by 40 points or more but the Wildcats' first-place margin over Duquesne in the Associated Press basketball poll is getting smaller and smaller.

This week the 97 experts who participated virtually admitted they couldn't choose between the two. Kentucky got the nod 757 to 751 on the basis of 10 points for a first-place vote 9 for second and on down the line

Forty-nine of the voters named Kentucky first or second whereas Duquesne drew 12 first place votes and 35 for second Five ballots skipped Kentucky altogether. Only two omitted Duquesne.

Duquesne has won 18 games against college competition and two against service teams without a loss Kentucky won its 17th straight last night, 97-55 over Florida.

Indiana's defending national champions continued the grip on third place that they have maintained since suffering their only loss—to Oregon State in the week before Christmas The Hoosiers polled 687 votes almost 150 ahead of fourth-place Oklahoma A&M

Radio and Television

By John Crosby

Kathy Godfrey

Kathy Godfrey is in a difficult position. Being Arthur Godfrey's sister isn't such a bad thing provided one isn't on television. And being on television isn't so bad provided one isn't Arthur Godfrey's sister. Taking on both things at once, though, is asking a little too much of anyone, even a Godfrey.

J. CROSBY

The world is divided into two classes of people—the ones who worship Arthur and the ones who, to tread as delicately as possible, don't. Kathy Godfrey, who looks a little like Arthur in a wig, is going to irritate the first bunch by seeming to impersonate their idol. And she's going to irritate the other bunch by seeming to impersonate their something-less-than-idol. The better the impersonation, the more the second bunch is going to be infuriated and the worse the impersonation the madder the first bunch is going to get. And that's enough of that.

ACTUALLY, KATHY has a lot of her older brother's charm and I think eventually she may acquire what for lack of a better word I call his presence. (Presence, according to Crosby's Unwritten Dictionary, is the ability to make the TV screen glow eerily. Twelve inch screens expand to fourteen inches and color TV screens turn phosphorescent. It takes an awful lot of humility to have presence.)

Considering the formidable handicaps she's operating under, Miss Godfrey has selected a remarkably insipid vehicle to launch her network career on. Originally it had been planned to send her down the ways in a show first called "Up for Adoption" and later called "The Truth About Adoption." At the trial kinescope of this, Miss Godfrey exhibited signs of the Godfrey temperament which, I guess, runs through the entire family and the show blew up.

Batten, Barton, Durstine and Osborne then thrust her into a sort of quiz giveaway called "On Your Way" which is pretty weak. On "On Your Way," Miss Godfrey plays the part of a Lady Bountiful who is desperately anxious to send people from New York to Tuscaloosa or wherever else they want to go.

FIRST MAN UP on her new show was a man who told Miss Godfrey that he wanted to go to Arizona because—well—he lives in Arizona. Seems reasonable enough. (What do you suppose he was doing here in New York?) "I know everything is going to be all right," said Miss Godfrey soothingly. "We want to help you."

She then turned him over to John Reed King, a master of ceremonies of redoubtable lung power, who bellowed silly quiz questions at him. The contestant got the right answers for all but the last one which meant he got a ticket for a plane ride almost to Arizona and, I guess, hitchhiked the rest of the way. So it went. Whole families would gather around Miss G. and ask to be transported someplace and she would cluck sympathetically and say she hoped they got there.

This isn't a very demanding role and frankly I think this girl is well equipped to handle something bigger like maybe a joke. She has warmth and an air of intelligence (though the intelligence we'll have to take under advisement until she's permitted to exhibit it.) Just possibly, BBDO thinks Kathy needs to play the tank towns for awhile before she hits the big time and, believe me, she's doing it. On a show like this a girl can make a lot of mistakes without offending many people because there aren't going to be many around.

ONE OF THE contestants, incidentally, didn't want to go any place. He just needed the money. (I once knew a man who didn't need money. But he died.) For the jackpot question Eva Gabor got into the act, pausing just long enough to plug her new book. "When I arrived," said Eva dreamily, "I was 122 pounds which in Hungary is all right but in Hollywood is a lot of fat." That was the most sensible and easily the most illuminating remark during the whole show.

Three Drivers Stopped By Highway Patrolmen

Three persons were arrested for traffic violations, the Marion post of the state highway patrol reported today.

Melvin W. Pickett, 40, of near Marion was charged with speeding and cited to appear before Judge W. Dexter Hazen in Municipal Court Saturday. Jesse B. Stoner, 55, of Toledo was fined $15 and costs by Judge Hazen for parking on the roadway, and Merle L. Williams, 35, Woodburn, Ky., was stopped for driving without an Ohio use tax decal, and fined $10 and costs by Mayor Emery M. Murphy of Mt. Gilead. The decal is required of all truck owners showing they have paid the new Ohio axle mile tax.

Ted Brown Opens First Of Election Conferences

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's chief elections officer today opened the first of a series of 12 election conferences scheduled throughout the state this month.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown explained the new ballot forms prescribed for the May 4 primary to election officials from the seven-county conference area.

Brown said he planned to interview prospective county election board appointees at the conferences.

Hat Well 'Covered'

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—A gust of wind swept in from Lake Erie yesterday and spun David Taylor's hat toward an armored car parked in front of a bank.

Taylor rushed to recover it but stopped short when he saw three guards waiting with drawn pistols.

"It's only my hat," he said hopefully.

"Oh," rejoined a guard. "Well, come and get it—we've got it covered."

Russians Replacing MIGs in Germany With Faster Models

FRANKFORT—(NANA)—Russia is starting to replace her Korea-tested MIG-15 jet fighters in Eastern Germany by a series of more up-to-date jets.

These new fighters will include an advanced version of the famous MIG—so advanced that it will have a speed of 700 miles an hour in level flight.

U. S. Intelligence agents say that the MIG changeover may be part of an over-all change in the make-up of the Red air force.

There are indications that production of the MIG-15 has been halted and that factories are now switching to newer types—so new that their production now is thought to be one of the reasons why the Russians have made no move to claim the MIG-15 flown over Allied lines in Korea.

The Russians are confident that anything the Americans could learn from the MIG-15 would be out of date.

Newark Man Gets 50 Years for Kidnaping

CINCINNATI (AP)—Glenn V. Smith 21-year-old society-hating gunman from Newark, was sentenced in Federal District Court yesterday to 50 years in prison after he pleaded guilty to a charge of kidnaping.

He was accused of forcing two men to drive a getaway car after he held up a wine shop for $48.

Smith told Judge John H. Druffel he had "nothing" to say except he was guilty.

Later he told newsmen:

"I got 50 years. So what? I got nothing to say."

STEVE CANYON By Milton Caniff

WELL, DO, MISS!
BLOND M'SIEU, YOU AN' M'SIEU LE DUC EAT THE LUNCH, BUT GEEWE THE CONFECTIONAIRES' SUGAR TO MME. HERSELF MULDOON!
MAYBE THIS IS WHY THE SMUGGLING OF HEROIN WORKS! THEY TREAT IT ALL SO CASUALLY NOBODY PAYS ATTENTION!
SNOW THE GOODIES IN A CONVENIENT PLACE, CANYON! WHEN WE ARE A FEW MILES OUT. WE SHALL MESS IN ISOLATED SPLENDOR!
THE TRICK NOW IS TO GET THIS HEROIN-DISGUISED-AS-SUGAR TO MY U.S. AIR FORCE CONTACT SO WE CAN NAIL THE CASE DOWN!
WHY SO QUIET, CANYON? THINKING ABOUT HOW MUCH MORE MONEY HERSELF MULDOON WILL MAKE OFF THIS LOAD THAN EITHER THEE OR ME?
WOW! AM I GIVING OUT BILLETING WITH MY FACE? ...
NO STRAIN, DUKE! I CURRENT BE A BIG EXECUTIVE — I DON'T EVEN OWN A TATTERSALL VEST!

THE HEART OF JULIET JONES By Stan Drake

WHEN YOU SAID WE WERE GOING TO A LODGE, I HAD A MENTAL PICTURE OF ONE OF THOSE FRONTIER-TYPE MUD-AND-TAR-PAPER JOBS... BUT THIS — THIS IS PARK AVENUE WITH MOOSE HEADS!
HM? OH, YES — IT IS RATHER ELABORATE
WELL, YOU DON'T HAVE TO BE SO BORED WITH IT. I THINK IT'S GORGEOUS. DO YOU MIND?
NOW, WHAT DID I SAY TO RATE THAT CRUSHER?
SKIP IT — I GUESS IT'S A PASSING MOOD!

Hospital Increases Cited as Too Small

CHICAGO (UP) — The nation's hospitals are barely providing enough new beds to take care of the increased population, according to a report in Hospitals, official organ of the American Hospital Association.

The report was written by Dr. John W. Cronin, chief of the division of hospital facilities in the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Despite millions poured into hospital construction under the Hill-Burton act, which is administered by Cronin's division, only a "very minor net gain is occurring annually."

He said the provision of hospital beds is having a hard time keeping up with the "rapid growth in population and mounting obsolescence" of old hospitals.

"We are making some inroads on the backlog of need for general hospitals according to current yardsticks of need," he said, "but are losing ground with respect to institutions for mental and chronic care."

In 1946, the nation had a deficit of nearly 900,000 beds, and the current deficit is about 850,000, Cronin pointed out.

He warned that the nation must maintain an intensive program of hospital construction because "anything less than an adequate demand based on true need will leave us vulnerable as a people and as a nation to the assaults of disease, pestilence and war."

Four Weeks Required To Pay First Check for Unemployment

Unemployed residents of the Marion area who apply locally for unemployment compensation are no different from claimants who ask for benefits at any of the 55 local offices maintained in Ohio by the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation.

Their question, "How soon can I get it?" is a universal one.

It was pointed out by Fred B Scherff, manager of the local claims-taking agency, which handles the claims in Marion, Hardin, Wyandot, Morrow and Delaware Counties, that the basic purpose of unemployment compensation is to ease the impact of unemployment. Naturally, he said, the first benefit check can't arrive too soon for most claimants if it is to help meet the demands of everyday living.

Not Before 4 Weeks

How soon will it arrive? Scherff said it couldn't possibly reach the claimant's home address much before the end of the fourth week. The claimant has to make three successive visits to the local office on three successive calendar weeks before his claim for a week of benefits can be approved or allowed.

"If there is no question on the claim—if the employer does not protest and everything goes with clock-like precision—there still remains the final procedure of sending the allowed claim to Columbus, where the claimant's account is set up, and the check is written and mailed to the claimant's home address."

Here is the claimant's "timetable" as outlined by Scherff:

First Week: Claimant files his initial application for benefits.

Second Week: Claim is filed for waiting week, for which no benefits can be paid.

Third Week: Claim is filed for first "compensable" week (for which benefits can be paid).

Fourth Week: Final processing of claim, writing and mailing of check.

Regular Thereafter

It was pointed out that once the claim has been set up, subsequent weekly checks should arrive at regular intervals, provided that the claimant is able to meet all the requirements of the law each time he claims a week of unemployment.

Smoooth sailing, however, is not experienced by all unemployed workers who file claims for unemployment benefits. The employer whose account will be charged with benefits paid to an ex-employe will be mailed a notice informing him that the claim has been allowed. If, for one reason or another, he protests payment of the claim, it will be necessary for the BUC to obtain and review additional information. This may delay payment of the first check from two to six weeks and sometimes longer. And if a hearing is necessary, this may cause an indefinite delay."

Claimants whose claims are held up for any reason should continue to report regularly if they remain unemployed, until the issue is resolved, Scherff said.

One of the most important questions the claimant can ask, "what must I do to obtain benefits?" will be discussed in a following article.

Bail Not Raised For Convicted Labor Leader

CINCINNATI (AP)—Attaches in the U.S. district attorney's office said yesterday bond has not yet been provided for Melvin Hupman, Dayton labor leader.

Hupman, under conviction for making a false statement when he swore he was not a Communist, was granted the right to $10,000 bail last week pending appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals from his conviction.

Hupman has been in jail here since Jan. 15.

Under court rules, bond must be in the form of pledges of $20,000 worth of real estate by each of two persons.

Aides in the office of Asst. U.S. Atty. Thomas Stueve said they understood Mrs. Hupman still was attempting to obtain the necessary pledges but there was some question about the deeds for the real estate offered.

Hupman is under sentence to serve five years in prison. He also was fined $5,000.

SEIZE MOONSHINE

OBERLIN, Ohio (AP) — Four men are being held for questioning here in the confiscation of 36 gallons of moonshine whisky. The "white mule" liquor was being carried into a radio and TV shop yesterday when police and sheriff's deputies appeared. Officers now are trying to learn where it came from.

Robber Sews Loot In Daughter's Doll

WEEPING WATER, Neb. (AP)—Officers who arrested Allen Paul Melson in connection with a bank robbery last night found $1,292 sewn in a rag doll belonging to his 3-year-old daughter.

Cass County Sheriff Tom Solomon said Melson, 29-year-old Weeping Water quarry worker, admitted robbing the Corn Growers State Bank at nearby Murdock earlier yesterday. Melson said his wife had sewn the money in the doll after he told her to hide it.

Melson was in jail at Plattsmouth, Neb., today on an open charge.

To Help Rid Your Home Of Unseen Germs And Protect Your Family From Sickness This Winter!
You may have a trial bottle of famous HX ANTISEPTIC at your drug store absolutely free of charge to help rid your home of unseen germs and protect your family from sickness this winter.
At the height of World War II, London was going through the worst bombing raids in history. Water mains were broken and an epidemic could have broken out and wiped the population of London right off the map if it hadn't been for the "round the clock" work of British scientists.
They found a germicide (germ-killer) which was non-injurious, non-poisonous, non-staining and yet so powerful that it killed all bacteria brought on by the bombed out conditions of London. The British Army later adopted HX ANTISEPTIC as its official germicide when the war was over.
. . . Today, we want to help you rid your home of unseen germs that may bring on costly sickness this winter. We want to help you do this byoffering a FREE TRIAL BOTTLE OF Famous HX ANTISEPTIC. Yes, just go to your drug store and ask for your free bottle of HX ANTISEPTIC. Then wash your floors with it, your walls, bathrooms, basements, garbage pails, etc.

Slack Market Seen Until Spring

Output of Steel Still High Despite Weaker Demand

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The steel industry's bashful customers aren't exactly crowding its March order books. So the quiet days may last well into the spring, steelmen are willing to admit today. Earlier they had hoped for a pickup by March at the latest.

But their apparent confidence that operations are sure to revive later in the year, and their faith that other factors in their profit setup will offset the current dip in sales, has much to do with the general change for the better in business psychology noted in recent days.

Many now believe the recession will run itself out faster than first feared.

Some steel companies are trying a little price cutting here and there to nudge customers into a buying mood again.

But mostly this has been on a purely competitive basis—aimed at getting a bigger share for individual companies of whatever demand for steel there may be just now, rather than at drumming up new demand. That will have to wait till steel users stop trimming stocks.

The steel industry had its biggest year in 1953 in many ways. And the annual reports of steel companies, showing striking profit gains over the previous year, have helped cheer the stock market. Dividends have been well maintained too, and some even increased, in spite of a notable drop in profits.

The first 15 steel companies to report for all of 1953—and the list contains all the biggest ones—show combined profit after taxes of $596,258,502, a gain of 44 per cent over strike-beset 1952's total for the same 15 companies of $413,584,935.

The big gains came early in the year. The fourth quarter in most instances was disappointing.

Steelmen admit their earlier predictions that operations would pick up by this time went sour. They made a little miscalculation. They underestimated the amount of steel their customers had built up as inventories.

These stocks are still being dipped into by many steel users. But steel executives feel sure once again, that inventories are now pretty well whittled down and the customers will be coming back to order more.

But slower steel operating rates doesn't mean that there's only a trickle of steel being ladled out, by any means. Steel mills recently have been operating at around 75 per cent of their new 1954 capacity of 124 million tons a year.

Noted Persons Taken by Death

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA — Emile G. Perrot, 81, noted architect and pioneer in the field of reinforced concrete.

GOTEBORG, Sweden — Harald Hamberg, 62, chairman of the board of AB SKF, international bearing manufacturers who had started in the advertising department in 1914. Born in Sweden.

Colorado Youth, 18, Falls During Climb, Dies

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) —An 18-year-old Colorado College freshman, whose father conquered the highest peak in North America three years ago, fell and rolled 400 feet to his death yesterday.

The victim was Robert Albert Buchtel, son of Dr. and Mrs. Henry Buchtel of Englewood, Colo.

Buchtel and three other students were climbing in a rocky region of Williams Canyon near Manitou Springs when the accident occurred.

The youth's father, a widely known surgeon, is an accomplished mountain climber. With two others, he reached the peak of 20,270-foot Mt. McKinley in Alaska in 1951.

Ben Hecht To Pay Funeral Expenses For Slain Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—An old friend and a former wife today made arrangements for the burial of Maxwell Bodenheim, slain writer who flourished as a poet and novelist in the 1920s and then floundered in drink and poverty.

Author Ben Hecht yesterday offered to pay expenses for Bodenheim's funeral.

The dead man's first wife Minna last night arranged for him to be buried in a family plot at Cedar Park Cemetery, near Oradell, N. J.

Final arrangements, including the time of the funeral, remained to be completed.

No one has claimed the body of Bodenheim's third wife, the former Ruth Fagan, who was found slain with the destitute poet.

Meanwhile, New York police pressed their hunt for the slayer or slayers and alerted cities from here to Miami, Fla., to be on the watch for scar-faced Harold Weinberg, 25.

A police bulletin yesterday said Weinberg, a fast-talker and an apparent ne'er-do-well with a police record as a vagrant and thief, was wanted for questioning in the double murder.

Toledo Recommended As Surplus Labor Area

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Officials of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation have recommended to the Department of Labor in Washington that Toledo be declared a surplus labor area because of unemployment conditions there.

William Papier, director of BUC research, said the BUC certification had gone to Washington with Gov. Frank J. Lausche's approval. He said he believed it a "foregone conclusion" that Toledo would be declared a surplus labor area as soon as the Ohio recommendation is studied.

About 7-4 million U.S. farmers belong to farmer cooperatives.

New Hair Style Adopted By Secretary of Welfare

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Welfare Oveta Culp Hobby has a new hair style these days.

She used to wear her hair braided over her head or in a bun at the back. Now she wears it shortened in a sort of loose wave.

The new style became evident when pictures were made yesterday of Mrs. Hobby congratulating Victor Christgau of Minnesota as he was sworn in as director of the Bureau of Old Age and Survivors Insurance.

FACES GRAND JURY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Paul J. Turner, 28, was to be bound to the grand jury today on a first degree murder charge in connection with the fatal shooting Friday of Mrs. Virginia Price Raleigh, 17, in a Columbus tavern. Turner pleaded innocent.

Around Council's Table

Marion City Council adopted five pieces of legislation, turned down another, and sent three back to committee for further study at its regular meeting held Monday night at city hall.

Traffic Light Control

One ordinance approved unanimously paved the way for the start of negotiations for the purchase of a new master traffic light control.

Purchase of this equipment was proposed by Mayor Harold F. Robinson at the Jan. 25 Council meeting. Purpose of such equipment would be to make possible the changing of traffic light timing in the business district to speed the flow of traffic. He said the control could be adjusted to meet any possible traffic load.

As approved, the ordinance authorizes the safety-service director to advertise for bids to provide and install the controls. When submitted to Council, the ordinance also called for authorization for the safety-service director to enter into contracts for purchase of the devices.

Councilman-at-Large Robert G. Haldeman objected to this and said he felt Council should know what the bids were before approving the signing of contracts.

He moved the clause "and enter into contracts" be struck out of the ordinance and this motion was unanimously approved.

Uhler Ave. Improvement

A resolution authorizing A. J. Buday and Walter G. Malo to improve Uhler Ave. north from Mt. Vernon Ave. was unanimously approved.

Buday and Malo previously had submitted petitions to Council asking permission to construct sidewalks, curbs and gutters, street paving, and sewers on Uhler Ave. north to within two lots of Ohio Ave.

Cost of the improvements; according to the petition, is to be paid entirely by Buday and Malo.

During discussion of the proposed resolution, a question arose as to whether improvements would be made in front of the two lots on each side of the street just south of Ohio Ave.

City Engineer Thomas Cathers reported that the owners of these lots had told him they would sign petitions for paving of the street in front of their properties on condition another 350 feet north of Ohio Ave. also be paved.

During the discussion which followed, the question arose as to why the owners of the four corner lots could not be required to pay for improving the street in front of their properties. Councilman-at-Large Richard E. Lister said this could be done only if the city awarded contracts for construction of the improvements. The plan proposed by Buday calls for him and Malo to pay all the construction costs and to make the improvements under city specifications.

In asking for permission to make the improvements, Buday previously told Council he plans to build some 17 houses on Uhler Ave. between Mt. Vernon and Ohio Aves.

Discussion closed following approval of a motion by First Ward Councilman Harold Smith. He moved that the streets and alleys committee of Council and the city engineer meet to determine possibility of improving the street from the north end of Buday's properties to the south end of existing improvements and assess property owners for the cost. No date was set for the meeting.

Hospital Proposal

Approved with less discussion was an ordinance authorizing the Marion General Hospital Board of Commissioners to employ John Sappington for services in connection with equipping the hospital.

Board secretary E. L. Mitchell told Council employment of Sappington in a position similar to a clerk-typist is necessary because of a shortage of time in which to equip the hospital. He said a large number of specifications must be drawn up and assembled. Limited time now makes this a nearly full-time task, he said.

He pointed out the architect for the hospital, Dan A. Carmichael Jr. of Columbus, could do this but his fee would be six per cent of the total cost of about $250,000 for the equipment.

Under terms of the ordinance approving employment of Sappington, he is to be paid a maximum of $2,850 for a 10-months employment. He is to be paid $285 each month he is employed up to a maximum of 10 months.

Equipment Ordinance

Another ordinance unanimously approved authorized the safety-service director to advertise for bids and make contracts for the purchase of all supplies and materials needed in the two departments.

Only comment preceding adoption of this legislation was a question by Sixth Ward Councilman Harold Fralich. He asked if it was to provide stone for surface treating of the streets. "If it is, I will not vote for the ordinance," he said. Mayor Harold F. Robinson said this legislation was not to buy supplies for the surface treating program, but for various uses by both departments.

Supervisors Employed

Only other legislation adopted was an ordinance authorizing employment of Floyd G. Browne and Associates as technical supervisors for the Marion Sewage Treatment plant.

Terms of the contract to be signed with Browne call for him to be paid a total of $960 a year at $80 a month for provision of this service to the city. Mayor Robinson said the contract would merely be a renewal. Browne's duties would be to make periodic checks of sewage at the treatment plant and analyze its contents to determine if any are harmful to the treatment plant.

Pay Increase Defeated

An ordinance which would have authorized an increase in pay for the assistant city auditor was turned down by a 5-4 vote.

The thumbs-down vote came after a report of the finance committee was read by City Clerk Mayme Gorton. The report said that an investigation determined the assistant city auditor was not underpaid compared with pay for similar jobs in private enterprise. The report also noted Council had decided to avoid pay increases for any city employes this year. Granting an increase for one position would bring forth more such requests, the report said. It was signed by Councilmen Don E. Quaintance, Fifth Ward; Robert G. Haldeman, at-Large; and Warren Diehl, at-Large, all members of the finance committee.

In the voting Councilmen Harold Smith, First Ward; James C. Jenkins, Second Ward; Herman Rinehart, Third Ward; and Ralph W. Williams, Fourth Ward voted for the pay increase. Voting against it were Don Quaintance, Fifth Ward; Harold Fralich, Sixth Ward and Councilmen-at-Large Diehl, Lister and Haldeman.

Sewer Study Set

Sent back to committee for more study was a resolution authorizing preparation of plans for construction of a sewer in Bryant St. north of Fairview St. It was not voted on because it specified the sewer was to extend north to Hecker Ave. It is impossible to extend it further than 300 feet north because of grade problems, sewer committee chairman Herman Rinehart said. The sewer committee is to make a study of the problem and make necessary corrections in the proposed resolution.

Fire Contracts

An ordinance calling for signing of a contract with Delaware for mutual fire protection was sent to the Municipal Services Committee for more study. Mayor Robinson reported this contract was to provide for assistance between the two cities in event of a major disaster. Council asked that a clause in the proposed ordinance which would give similar protection to villages in a 30-mile radius of Marion be eliminated. This resulted in the ordinance being sent back to committee for study.

Sewage Proposal

Another ordinance authorizing signing of a contract with Marion Industries Division of Motor Products Corp. was also sent back to committee for study. The contract would provide for payment by the company for treatment and disposal of industrial wastes from the plant by the Marion sewage treatment plant. Council discussed whether the proposed rate of 16 cents for each 1,000 gallons of sewage treated would be high enough. It was decided to investigate the proposal more completely before taking action on it.

Jefferson St. Sewer

In other action, Council heard a letter concerning use of a government-owned sanitary sewer on Jefferson St. by the city. Written by Col. John F. Phelan of the Marion Engineer Depot, it gave the city permission to use the sewer on two conditions. These were that the city must maintain the sewer from E. Fairground to E. Center St. and must also install a check valve to prevent sewage flowing in the wrong direction.

The city has plans to construct a lift station at E. Fairground and Jefferson Sts. and to tap it into the government sewer. The lift station will serve new lines to be installed in the northeast section of the city which will drain northwest to the lift station. At this point the sewage will be raised, fed into the existing government sewer and will flow south to the trunk line on E. Center St.

Council approved a motion to bring in necessary legislation accepting the conditions.

School Street Paving

Fourth Ward Councilman Ralph W. Williams reported that the streets and alley committee had scheduled a meeting tonight with the board of education to discuss paving strips of land around the new Harding High School. The school board previously requested Council to pave the land between the school property line and the existing paved portions of Mandana and Seminole Aves. Council turned this request down late last year and no further definite action was taken.

All councilmen were present for last night's meeting.

The Army maintains 69 depots in the United States and 68 depots in overseas areas to receive, store and issue military supplies and equipment.

INDICTED. Aristoteles S. Onassis (above), a world power in shipping trade, entered a plea of innocent in Washington to charges of conspiracy to defraud the government in multi-million dollar deals in surplus ships after World War II. Onassis, a native of Greece and now a citizen of Argentina, is one of the nine individuals and six corporations indicted in connection with the ship deals. Another of those indicted is Joseph E. Casey, former Democratic congressman from Massachusetts.

PLEADS INNOCENT

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—James E. Vaughters, 18-year-old Wheelersburg shoe factory employe, has pleaded innocent to a first-degree murder charge in the death of Luther Cunningham, middle-aged pool room operator. Sheriff Burl Justice said Vaughters admitted shooting Cunningham accidentally Saturday while showing him a rifle he wanted to sell.

How Federal Estimates Are Made

Unemployment Figures Provided by 2 Agencies

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the best thermometers for showing the state of the nation's economy is the government's figures on the number of people employed and jobless.

Every month the government produces a fresh batch of figures. How does it get them? They're collected by two government agencies: the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) and the Census Bureau.

The BLS does it by mail and the Census Bureau by knocking on doors. The two agencies work independently of each other.

The BLS covers less ground. Its surveys don't include farmers, domestic workers, the self-employed and unpaid family workers. The Census Bureau takes in practically everybody.

The BLS has an arrangement with about 155,000 employers who send in every month a report on the number of people on their payrolls. Comparing this with previous months' figures shows whether employment is up or down.

These reporting employers range from steel mills, auto plants, mines, banks, insurance companies, railroads, gas and electric companies, street car lines and even beauty parlors to the government itself, a big employer.

Once a month, in the week containing the eighth day of the month, the Census Bureau sends 300 paid people around to 25,000 homes in 68 counties, including the country's 21 largest metropolitan areas.

These census-takers—called enumerators—go out with a prepared list of questions and cover an estimated 48,000 individuals 14 years or older living in the 25,000 homes.

If that seems a small number of homes and individuals on which to draw conclusions about total employment and unemployment in a country the size of this, the Census Bureau says:

When unemployment reaches around two million, for example, its estimate on the total number unemployed will not be off by more than 150,000, and when employment hits around 60 million, its estimate will not be off by more than 350,000.

The Census Bureau's latest figures—for the week of Jan. 3-9—show 59,778,000 employed, 2,359,000 unemployed. In the same week of 1953 the figures were: employed 60,800,000; unemployed, 1,900,000.

If you do some substraction on those figures you'll find that while the total number of people employed in January 1954 is 1,022,000 fewer than a year ago, the total number of unemployed has increased only 459,000.

The Census Bureau's explanation: a number of people who were employed a year ago but aren't now are not looking for jobs now so they can't be considered unemployed.

The enumerators ask questions like these: Who's working in this house? Anyone looking for work? If so, how long has he been looking? Anyone doing part-time work? And so on.

The government doesn't have the means of making a check on every individual every month. But both agencies have a guide or measuring stick—economists call it a bench-mark—for checking the approximate accuracy of their estimates.

This means that at some time in the past they had actual figures covering individuals nationwide.

The last time BLS made a bench-mark was in the first quarter of 1951 when it got what it considers a complete count on employment and unemployment from social security and unemployment insurance records for workers covered by its survey. BLS is now making a similar check on the first quarter of 1953

The last time the Census Burea made a bench-mark, or head-by-head count, was when it took the national census in 1950.

Charter Boat Carrying 77 Tossed Against Jetty

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—A 65-foot charter boat, carrying 77 persons and out of fuel, was tossed against a jetty in the Gulf of Mexico last night but all aboard were rescued without serious injury.

For a time the Miss Birmingham seemed in danger of breaking up in the rough Gulf waters at Sunset Beach. The Coast Guard alerted all available rescue craft for emergency duty.

At midnight, however, the last of the passengers and crewmen reached shore, some in small boats some wading and swimming through the shallow water. Others leaped to the swaying wooden jetty. The worst injuries were minor cuts and bruises.

German Jews Fare Better in Postwar Era

Recovery From Nazi Reign of Terror Is Steady for 125,000

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—German Jews, oppressed and persecuted under Hitler, are making a steady recovery in postwar Germany.

Prospects of the 125,000 Jews now in West Germany are the brightest since the Nazis unleashed a reign of terror against them 21 years ago. More than five million died in Hitler's campaign. Most were East European Jews. Some 30,000 were German Jews.

The Central Council of Jews in Germany estimates there were 600,000 Jews in Germany when the Nazis took over. Those who remained and survived once again are back in business and taking part—without fear—in the country's social and cultural life.

There are 400 Jewish lawyers in West Germany. Three Jews are in the federal Parliament. Some 350 Jewish merchants own businesses, the Association of Jewish Trade reports. The Jewish Womens Assn. of Germany boasts 2,000 members. Almost 200 Jewish students are at German universities. A Jewish newspaper claims a circulation of 48,000.

It's a far cry from the days when Jews were stripped of their citizenship, removed from office, deprived of their businesses and fired from their jobs.

The West German government pays compensation to Jews who suffered under the Nazis. Their confiscated property has been returned. They get preferential treatment for jobs and housing.

A government survey estimates 380,000 German Jews live abroad. They were among the thousands who flew Germany after "Crystal Night" on Nov. 9, 1938, when SA men stormed and burned Jewish shops, homes and synagogues. The less fortunate died in Nazi extermination and concentration camps

Conspicuously absent from the Jewish scene today are children For example, the government survey shows, of 250 Jews who live in Hannover, only 11 are children under 13. There are two between 14 and 19.

FOA Contributes More Funds for Korean Relief

SEOUL (AP)—The U. S. Foreign Operations Administration contributed 33 million dollars during January for Korean recover, Economic Coordinator C. Tyler Wood reported today. The contribution was the biggest for any one month.

This raised to about 185 million dollars the recovery funds contributed by American and United Nations agencies for 1953 and this year, a spokesman said.

Altogether about 400 million dollars have been earmarked for Korea by the United States and the United Nations for the fiscal year ending in June.

Ohio's Bricker

In the unfolding of political trends and patterns during the first month of the new congressional session, the emerging stature of Sen. Bricker of Ohio is causing comment.

James Reston of the New York Times has described him as "a symbol — if not the leader— of those in Congress and the country who would put more express limits on executive and judicial federal power."

Reston believes Bricker has begun to take on a part of the function performed by the late Sen. Taft — "carrying on the spirt of Middle West rebellion against the growth and cost of federal intervention in the world and in the nation."

Even so outspoken a champion of absolutism as Sen. Humphrey of Minnesota went out of his way in Senate debate last Wednesday to acknowledge that Sen. Bricker's leadership in the fight for the Bricker amendment has been outstanding; that an honest issue over the Constitution had been expertly presented by an able legislator.

In our times every difference of opinion in public affairs is a challenge to slander-tongued partisans unable to carry on an objective discussion. Their technique of character assassination was perfected when they employed it against Robert A. Taft, so it is not surprising to find them using it now on John Bricker.

Fortunately, Bricker is able to rise above their slanders. Even in the heat of Senate debate on his proposal he retained his dignity as Ohio's senior senator and his charm as one of the most personable and popular men in public life.

His leadership in the fight for his proposed amendment has won him the admiration of even his political opponents because he has passed the hardest test a member of Congress must endure — objective leadership in a major debate on a vital question.

The apparent defeat for his proposal has not been a defeat for Ohio's Bricker, who has emerged as an articulate and convincing spokesman for moderation in Washington.

Inventory Correction

In business reports dealing with some recent slumps in orders for new production, the phrase "inventory correction" had appeared so often it was beginning to sound like economic double talk.

The explanation of what it means is so simple the phrase doesn't need to be regarded with any suspicion at all.

"Inventory correction" is what happens when the lady of the house removes all the stored-up dibs and dabs of food from the refrigerator and makes hash or perhaps that most disturbing of all concoctions, a vegetable salad.

It is what happens when the boss casts a critical eye at the pencils and erasers which have been accumulating in desk drawers and announces that no new ones will be issued until all the old ones have been used up.

It is what happens when a man decides he will buy no more new neckties until he has squeezed the last full measure of devotion out of the old ones. If all necktie wearers were to do this simultaneously, the manufacturers of neckties would be up against an "inventory correction."

Under the theory of economics covering this situation, an inventory correction is followed in due time by a resumption of purchasing of new merchandise. When the refrigerator has been cleaned out, the pencils and erasers used up and the old neckties are looking stringy, orders for new production will come in again.— and another detail of the postwar readjustment will pass into history.

Those Golden Eggs

If partisan politics could be put aside during congressional hearings on federal income and outgo, lawmakers could be of one mind on a point that otherwise must remain in controversy.

All federal income comes from wealth produced by private citizens. The federal government produces no wealth of its own. It is only a service agency for the sources of the wealth which pays its expenses.

Therefore — and bear in mind this would be with partisan politics aside — the government should help its citizens produce wealth.

The greatest absurdity in the United States in the last 20 years was the business-baiting policy of creeping socialists who would cheerfully have trangled the source of the government's income to spite the economic system which has made the United States strong.

Many proposals for changes will be made during congressional hearings on budget recommendations. Most of them will be made by politicians with an eye on votes. The rest will be made with an eye on the budget — nothing else — and there will be no vote-getting power in these.

If all proposals could be rated according to whether they contribute to the over-all wealth of the American people and their government, or whether they merely juggle dollar signs to get the favorable attention of voters, there would be more sense in the budget hearings than otherwise is likely to be found.

Road to Dictatorship

By David Lawrence

Intolerance of Dissent Will Wreck Democracy

The Republican party is raising a bigger fund than usual for expenses in the coming campaign in the hope of electing a Republican majority in Congress next autumn.

It will do the money-raisers and the hard working leaders little good unless they can erase the impression, fostered to no small extent among some of the members of the White House staff itself, that President Eisenhower is politically superior to the Republican party.

The habit of turning up noses at the Republican party with the illusory contention that the 1952 election was won primarily because of the popularity of Eisenhower and that his party is supposedly discredited, would be natural if it came from the Democrats.

It comes also from some newspapers and magazines of large circulation which supported Ike last year and still think he can be pictured as being the sole source of strength to his own party.

An editorial in one such magazine said recently: "It's time these Republican reactionaries — many businessmen among them — who are trying to make a god of what they think is the Republican party, were told that the American people don't give a damn about that god. And furthermore that their god never existed."

This is not the kind of preachment that will unite the Republican party but the kind that will, if persisted in, make it easier for the Democrats to win control of both houses of Congress.

SNOBBERY toward the Republican party isn't going to make converts among the independents who switch from one ticket to the other in different elections. Nor is a campaign belittling American political parties as such going to induce young men and women to try to transform both the major parties from within into more effective instruments of the public will.

It is good strategy, as Vice President Nixon and others in the Republican leadership have begun to point out, to say that a vote for a Republican Congress is a vote to uphold the hand of President Eisenhower and to give him a chance to complete his program.

It isn't good strategy to assume that by relying wholly on Ike's popularity his voting strength can be transferred to the Republican party this year in a congressional election wherein the name "Eisenhower" doesn't appear anywhere on the ballot and the Republican emblem does.

The fact that Eisenhower ran ahead of his ticket in 1952— something that has been consistently true of the winning candidate for the presidency except in 1948 — doesn't prove that the Republican party was full of reactionary candidates and that the people didn't care to vote for Republican nominees for Congress last year.

All one has to do to disprove this is to point to the case of Sen. Lodge, Eisenhower's original campaign manager never classified as a reactionary or an isolationist —who was defeated for reelection in Massachusetts by a defection of Republicans. They voted for Eisenhower and carried the state for him by a substantial majority while electing a Democratic senator.

THE IDEA that neither of the major parties is any good has been cultivated by extremists in recent years and echoed by unthinking persons who somehow believe they are expressing a new kind of political independence.

Actually they are contributing toward a breakdown of the two-party system and the development of splinter parties and blocs.

Many speeches will be made this week by Republicans in connection with Lincoln Day celebrations but none will express better the most important thing for Republicans to say from their own viewpoint than this comment by President Eisenhower last Friday:

"The reason I believe in the Republican party is because it is the best political instrument to serve the United States in this kind of day."

Now if the President can persuade some of the members of his own staff and some of his press supporters to believe that simple statement so that they will not immediately discount it cynically as a sort of necessary lip service, he will have achieved much toward strengthening the party that gave him the nomination and the chance to be president.

THE SAME principle holds good for the Democratic party. There are radicals in that party who turn up their noses at the conservative Democrats from the South just because the latter happen conscientiously to differ with them on such things as civil rights.

Political parties have room in them for all kinds of opinion and when one faction begins to read the other out of the party, exhibiting an intolerance of dissent and indulging in name-calling toward its own members, then a totalitarian and dictatorial attitude begins to prevail which can only weaken, if not destroy, such a party.

Governor Meyner of New Jersey, Democrat, expressed a very enlightened attitude the other day when he urged businessmen to identify themselves with the Democratic party and to help finance it.

Neither party can succeed if it starts with the promise that it doesn't want any dissent within its ranks.

Frustration

New Wave of Unrest 'Boils' in Berlin

By Martin S. Hayden

BERLIN

Seeping through the Iron Curtain, the phrase "Es gehrt!" is stirring speculation in Berlin that the failure of the Berlin Conference of Foreign Ministers may be punctuated by a renewal of wholesale rioting in Germany's Soviet Zone.

The words, translated, are "It's boiling!"

Reporters heard them as they mingled with East German farmers who had slipped into West Berlin for the end of "Green Week," the annual agricultural fair.

Again and again have come messages into the newsroom of Radio Rias, where a file has accumulated of verified reports from the Red Zone of protests against Soviet Minister Molotov's opposition to free All-German elections.

Evaluating the East Zone disturbance and strong Communist counter-measures, American officials here are in unanimous agreement that the current unrest far exceeds that preceding the bloody June 17 riots of last year.

They are divided, however, in their estimates of whether the East Germans, for the sake of mass expression, will invite certain violent retaliation from the always ready Communist security forces there.

THE EDITORS at Rias, the American station that did so much to keep East Germany informed of the progress of the June riots, lean backward to avoid any charge of inspiring futile bloodshed among the captive East Germans.

Because they have not been verified, West Berlin newspaper reports of alleged demonstrations in Halle, Leipzig, Gera, Dresden and Bitterfield have not yet been cleared by transmission by Rias announcers.

All day Sunday and late into the night, however, Gordon Ewing, former Wayne University English teacher who directs Rias, sat at his desk clearing reports that the station knew to be true.

Some, as the Western World gauges "disorder," seemed trivial.

For example, all over the East Zone at midnight every day last week, artists were busy daubing walls with a painted "W," symbolic of the German word, "Wahlen" ("Election").

At Brandenburg, upper school pupils walked out when the principal announced a discussion of the merits of Communist Grotewohl's speech supporting the Molotov plan for a merger of the East and West German governments and Communists-dominated elections.

At a coke gas plant in Lauchhammer, workers rioted when the Freie Deutsche Jugend — Communist youth group — tore down a home-made banner reading "We demand free elections."

At the Silbertz Steel Works near Gera, in Saxony, the SPD (secret police) charged workers and dragged out, handcuffed, the ringleader who had cried out: "The Russians are afraid to let us vote; Let's finish what we started June 17th!"

But, Ewing emphasizes, these are bold moves by desperate men disregarding the iron rule of police states. As he approved them for broadcast, he also cleared tales of tightened Red police control in the East Zone.

In East Berlin's Pankow district, police searched schoolrooms and children, confiscating Western literature — including Mickey Mouse comics. The parents of the offending children were called to SPD headquarters and warned they will be kept under surveillance from now on.

The local managers of East Germany's nation-wide Progress Film Company have received a headquarters order to report the names and statements of any employes commenting unfavorably on the Molotov stand at the conference.

Again, at the Leuna Synthetic Gas Works in Mersberg, the People's Police on duty since June 17 have been reinforced and equipped with communications lines direct to the police reserve barracks.

Ewing hears sharply conflicting predictions from German advisers as to what is coming.

One group holds that massacre is so certain and victory so hopeless that the East Germans would not move en masse. The other argues that the ministers' failure at their parleys has bred such hopelessness that the people will risk their lives to embarrass Molotov at the conference table and to attract world attention to their plight.

In peaceful, prosperous West Berlin, this reporter visited two memorials — one desecrated and the other revered as symbols of German hatred for the Russians.

In a parkway of the Potsdammer Chaussee in the American Zone, what is alleged to be the first Russian tank to have entered Berlin in World War II stands on a pedestal as a memorial to Soviet war dead. U.S. officials finally had to fence it off with chicken wire to prevent further damage by Germans who had daubed it with paint, hacked the marble base, and torn off a bronze marker.

A few feet away stands a stripped tree trunk with an upper crosspiece symbolic of the Christian cross. On it, a plaque reads: "To the brave and fearless fighting for the rights and dignity of man and for truth and freedom 17 June 1953."

As two Americans looked on, a group of German school children passed. At the tank they spat, and laughed. At the simple cross, they touched their caps in reverence for the Germans who died in that other futile protest against their Soviet oppressors

Head Start

By TRUMAN TWILL

In less than an hour, I am due to make an informal talk to a group of eighth-grade pupils who are interested in information about courses they should take in high school.

My assignment, which is a favor to a young friend of mine who is in the group, will be to tell about courses which might prepare the pupils for careers in journalism.

However, I am not going to talk about journalism. The only courses which are of any real value as preparation for careers in journalism are highly specialized courses in graduate schools. While the other courses — the kind ordinarily found in high school — do no harm they are of dubious value as journalistic training.

What I propose to tell these boys and girls is about the importance of being able to observe and communicate, regardless of what they intend to do when they are through school.

I am going to try to make it clear to them that the basic difference between them and the highest of the lower animals is their ability to use their minds for consciously - directed purposes and to communicate to others what they are thinking about as well as to receive communication without confusion.

As preparation for their whole lives and, incidentally, for journalism—if any of them end up in the profession — they should learn to see what is about them, to ponder its meaning and to convey what they have seen and digested to others by means of spoken and written words.

If they do not know how to read and write by the time they have finished high school, they cannot think of themselves as educated persons. They have merely served time in a system of progression by age and grades which has spewed them out into a world they are untrained to cope with because they are not much better off than dogs and horses; i.e., they cannot communicate properly.

Somewhere during the presentation, I shall ring in the illustration of a carpenter who was not really a carpenter because he could not saw straight or hammer a nail without bending it. This would be no different in any important respect from a high school graduate who cannot make a simple declaration without committing gross errors of grammar or spelling. The essence of education in any school system is ability to communicate clearly — to keep the channels of communication open and to use them for useful purposes.

It is particularly important that this be done in a society of sovereign people because in America all ideas must come from or be conveyed back to, and among ordinary citizens. Otherwise the sovereign people are helpless.

If they cannot understand what they hear and read and if they, in turn, cannot communicate clearly with others, the inevitable result will be a Babel in the United States which will set brothers against brothers and sisters against sisters in an interminable welter of misunderstanding.

Ten to one, the boys and girls who are about to hear this won't care much for the idea, because it won't tell them how they are going to become journalists in one easy lesson — or anything else. But if they will apply the idea to the rest of their public schooling, they will have a head start in any occupation or profession they may choose to follow thereafter.

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

The first medical society in the county was organized March 6, 1850. Meetings were held in the Presbyterian Church each month but after a few years the organization was discontinued. Members of the Society included Drs. George Holloway, John C. Norton, H. A. True, John Black, W. R. Applebaugh, Robert H. Cochran, J. R. Williams, E. S. Gross, John Byers, Chauncy Lewis, W. W. Bridge, Samuel Grafton, J. H. Burkholder, James M. Briggs, J. Kindler, N. Atwood, W. C. Johnston, J. A. Rodgers, R. C. Bowdish, Orrin Ferris, Cyrus Ramsey, Robert L. Sweeney, W. McPherson, T. B. Fisher, D. M. Jones, A. R. Gabriel and A. C. Bodeman.

"Remember now—we didn't come to watch the television. We just came to see how Aunt Martha's feeling today!"

In the Far North

By MARK DANA

We have been waiting with, we believe, commendable patience for refrigerators to Eskimos and thus fulfill the supreme proverbial test of persuasive glibness. That event has not yet occurred, yet it has been approached.

Dogsleds, telegraph wires and word-of-mouth have brought the report from the northern regions of Canada's Saskatchewan that the sub-Arctic Indians are now using icebox refrigerators for storing caribou meat, and one of these days maybe we'll hear of an electric or gas refrigerator being used by them as they take up the white man's burden and yearn to become further civilized.

It has been the custom among these hardy redskins to go on big caribou hunts each fall, killing hundreds of the animals, piling the carcasses and covering them with snow (or letting nature do it). When a family got hungry, it then was just a matter of digging into the meat pile, pulling out a frozen carcass and setting the table for a meal.

Apparently after centuries, the Far North Indians have found this meat a bit untasty, especially along toward spring. Hence the imitation of the palefaces to the south.

One might, of course, do a little juggling of the zenith test of good selling and wonder if the natives will ever sell their own primitive meat-packing method to us. Maybe they have their own proverb slogan, and with equally commendable patience are waiting for it to be realized.

Target Practice

The doctors say that most of us really are afraid to retire, but think how much worse it would be if you were a general and had to face being urged to run for governor of some state or take over a university.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Coffee Probe

(Characters: An investigator and a housewife.)

Q — You are a coffee drinker and we thought you might contribute something to this inquiry, as you are the chief sufferer. What is the situation in your home?

A — It is going from bad to worse and from worse to second-hand teabags.

Q —You have trouble getting coffee?

A — I have trouble getting even descriptions of coffee.

Q — How much are you paying?

A — I bring my weekly pay to the grocer and he takes it as a deposit on anything I can use to dunk crullers.

Q — Do you consider this fair?

A — Well, I think he should at least throw in a half-lump of sugar and stop playing that old recording of "There's an Awful Lot of Coffee in Brazil."

Q — Just how critical is the coffee crisis in your home?

A — We are now using the percolator to loosen stamps from old envelopes.

Q — There are six adults in your family. Each takes four cups of coffee per day for a total of twenty-four cups, when, as and if. Does that present a difficult problem?

A — I figure it ahead of any problem faced by Eisenhower, Dulles, Leo Durocher or Jimmy Roosevelt.

Q — On your salary can you provide twenty-four cups a day?

A — Only if some quiz program gives a choice between a case of coffee or a trip to Europe as the jackpot.

Q — Just how do you manage to provide coffee for your family?

A — Does Houdini tell Aladdin?

Q — Have you tried using the same grounds twice?

A — I refuse to answer that question.

Q —On the ground it would incriminate and degrade you?

A — No; just on the ground that what the family doesn't know won't hurt it.

Q — Do you think you got more coffee under the Democrats?

A — Maybe it was just more hot water.

Q — Do you favor coffeeless days in lunchrooms?

A — You mean they haven't always had 'em there!!!

Q — How much does your husband earn a week?

A — He was in the upper brackets but he is now in the lower percolators.

Q — Do you think that possibly America makes its coffee too strong?

A — No, I think it makes its investigators too weak.

Livestock Day Slated Friday At Upper Site

UPPER SANDUSKY — Wyandot County's fourth annual Livestock Day program is scheduled for this Friday at the new dining hall on the county fairgrounds.

Five recognized authorities in the field of agriculture will speak during the daylong program. Harold D. Guither, associate editor of Doane's Agriculture Digest, St. Louis, Mo., is slated to give the keynote address on the meeting's theme, "Building a Strong, Prosperous Agriculture." The talk will be given at 10:30 a.m. Friday.

At 11:15 a.m., Jack Nisbet, president of Agricultural Selling, Inc., of Columbus, will speak on, "Selling and Public Relations Beyond the Line Fence." In the afternoon, a panel will discuss the question, "How can we be assured of a living wage and continue to operate small independent business units?" Members of the panel in addition to Guither and Nisbet will be O. C. Croy, Agriculture Extension Service, Ohio State University, D. T. Herrman, administrator of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation program in Ohio, and H. D. Heckathron, farmer, vice president of the Ohio Farm Bureau director of the Producers Livestock Cooperative Association and of the county Soil Conservation District, S. C. Cashman, county agricultural agent, will serve as moderator.

Lunch will be served by the Salem School Band Boosters.

The event is a joint activity of the Dairy Service Unit, Hog Improvement Association, Sheep Improvement Association and Beef Cattle Feeders Association.

Program committee include Fred Scheck Jr., chairman, David Needs Jr., Ross A. Winter, T. C. Grossman, Glenn Kieffer and county agricultural agents, S. C. Cashman and W. W. Wharton.

Workhouse Inmate Is Snappy Dresser

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Frank M. Mitchell, a notoriously sharp dresser even if he does spend most of his time in the city workhouse, was particularly distinguished in the topcoat, hat and gloves of the Rt. Rev. Richard A. Kirchdorffer, Episcopal bishop of Indianapolis.

But he was apologetic after receiving a 120-day sentence for taking the bishop's apparel from Christ Church Cathedral last week.

"I'm very sorry about the whole thing," he said. "Certainly I am no thief. I must have been greatly intoxicated."

The bishop discovered Mitchell's clothes instead of his own when he prepared to dress after participating in the consecration of the Rev. C. Cresham Marmion Jr. as bishop of Kentucky.

The bishop's clothes were discovered among Mitchell's possession in the workhouse, where he was serving time for drunkenness.

Student 'Agent' Arrested

HOUSTON (AP)—Ledell Hampton, 34, arrested Dec. 30 with a tin "special police" badge on his shirt and a gun in his pocket, was fined $125 for carrying the pistol yesterday.

Hampton told prosecutors he was taking a correspondence course to become an FBI agent. He came into County Court armed with a books on how to make arrests.

Schoolgirl Offered Horse Provided She Will Ride It Home

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The little Minneapolis schoolgirl with a yen for a Texas horse can have one if she comes to Texas after it and rides it home.

The offer was received by Secretary of State Howard Carney today from West Texas rancher Guy H. Tomlinson of San Angelos and Tulia.

Andrea Michalik wrote the secretary of state last week seeking a "sample" of Texas. She said she would prefer a horse and enclosed a dime for postage.

"There must be some ranchman, who has so many he can spare me one," she wrote.

Tomlinson told Carney he has a surplus of horses, including one for Andrea. But Andrea will have to claim the mare at his ranch in Tulia and ride her home, he said.

4-H Club News

Prospect 4-H'ers met at the school recently. It was decided to divide the club into two groups. The junior group will be 1-7 grades with the rest in the senior group. The senior group elected Richard Gix, president; Bill Hedges, vice president; Howard Isler, secretary and treasurer; James Rogers, reporter; John Moyer, recreation leader; and Wayne Seiter, health and safety director. The groups will be called the Prospect Senior 4-H'ers and the Junior 4-H'ers. The meetings will be held on the second Monday each month.

The Prospect Ag Girls held their regular meeting at the Township House. Barbara Ann McNeal presided for the business meeting, when plans were discussed for summer activities. A recreation period was in charge of Emily Holt. Joan Isler was hostess.

Oklahoma Coed Finds Property Hard To Keep

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Charlotte Call, Oklahoma City University coed, placed an ad in the student paper seeking to locate the following lost items:

A fountain pen, eye glasses, two mechanical pencils, a suitcase, purple formal, one shoe, billfold, a $3 check, two cornets, a pajama bottom, long handles and a white shirt.

"It's normal for a girl to lose these things," she explained.

Two Who Cursed Mayor of Bucyrus Given Jail Terms

BUCYRUS — Arthur Boggs, 23, and Ray Price, 25, both of Emerson, Ky., learned here Monday that cursing a city official is one sure way to land in jail.

The pair was arraigned before Mayor Frank P. Stiler on charges of petit larceny in connection with the theft of gasoline from a parked car. Both pleaded guilty and each was fined $100.

Unable to pay their fines, the two men were being taken by police to a city jail cell when one of the men called Mayor Stiler an obscene name.

The mayor quickly recalled both men into his court and added 30-day sentences in the Crawford County jail for the pair. Police said the men will be moved to the county jail today.

They were arrested Saturday when police caught them siphoning gasoline from an auto, parked behind a downtown restaurant, into grease buckets.

Marion Man Given $200 Fine on Hit-Skip Charge

A Marion man was fined $200 and costs and given a three years' suspension of his driving rights in Municipal Court this morning when he pleaded guilty to charges of leaving the scene of an accident.

He was James Scott McClaskey, 45, of 480 Van Buren St.

McClaskey was arrested shortly after a hit-skip mishap at 7:29 p.m. Sunday at 817 N. State St. He was charged on counts of hitting three cars which were parked on State St.

Marion Auto Registrar To Receive Instructions

Mrs. Corah Weber, Marion County deputy registrar, will attend a meeting Feb. 19 in the state office building, Columbus. She will meet there with deputies from Delaware, Fairfield, Franklin, Knox, Madison, Morrow, Pickaway and Union Counties to receive instructions on issuance of the 1954 Ohio license plates.

This isone of a dozen such meetings to be held throughout the state between Feb. 10 and 26. The instruction meetings will be conducted by traveling auditors.

The 1954 plates, while numerals with maroon background, will go on sale March 1. Purchase must be made before April 1.

VOTE SET ON UNION

CINCINNATI (AP) — Meat department workers at the A. & P. Co.'s Hamilton store will vote Thursday on a collective bargaining agent. The National Labor Relations Board said yesterday the employes will have the opportunity to vote for either the AFL Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butchers Workmen of North America or no union.

Women Voters To Meet With County Officials

Members and guests of the Marion League of Women Voters will meet with county commissioners in their office in the Courthouse at 8 p.m. Wednesday for an informal discussion on county government.

Commissioners Howard McCurdy, Luther Mitchell and Ray Reidenbaugh will answer questions pertaining to the functions of county officials, the problems facing the county, and possible solutions to those problems.

Mrs. Paul Wolfe is chairman of the committee gathering information on county government.

Major Issue

By George Sokolsky

A great issue does not die; it may be postponed only to reappear in another and perhaps exaggerated form. The Bricker Amendment is a fundamental issue in American affairs which may now be diverted from the floors of Congress to the hustings of the 1954 election. It can become a challenge to the Eisenhower administration in every State.

SOKOLSKY

The issue is this: shall the president of the United States be permitted to use executive agreements to by-pass the constitutional provision with regard to treaties? Shall the president be permitted to sign treaties or agreements which legislate for the American people?

—:—

SHALL TREATIES and executive agreements change the laws of the States without the consent of the state legislatures? Shall international bodies, in any manner, replace Congress as the legislative agency of the American government?

After the American experience with the Quebec, Moscow, Teheran, Yalta, Potsdam and San Francisco conferences, it is the consensus of Americans that something needs to be done.

On the other hand, few wish to embarrass President Eisenhower and to give the world the impression that his judgment is not trusted.

Actually, it is the conduct of Roosevelt and Truman that has aroused distrust, but the issue arises while Eisenhower is in the White House.

The error of the Eisenhower administration was to become involved in this matter at all.

The Constitution does not provide that the president should have any voice in constitutional amendments; that is the function of the Congress and the state legislatures.

On the other hand, President Eisenhower is asserting leadership of the Republican party and as such a leader, he is entitled to coordinate the policy of his party between the White House and the Congress. This can only be done by conference; it can never be done by dictation.

IT WAS ONCE said to me that the president can take the Republicans for granted because "Where will they go?" This is supposed to be realistic politics.

The person who used it as an argument is one of those amoral government officials who manipulate behind the scenes and whose moral attitudes may be less scrupulous than a money crook.

Applied to the politics of the Bricker Amendment, the cleavage in the Republican party over it is straight up and down.

Old line Republicans, Taft Republicans, men and women who have been in the party and have stayed with it from Hoover to Eisenhower, who elected governors, senators and representatives during the dark years of defeat, support the Bricker Amendment as a matter of principle rooted in their opposition to the New Deal.

The new elements, some of them Democrats who switched from the New Deal to Eisenhower, but not to the Republican party, and who hold office in the Eisenhower administration, are fighting the Bricker Amendment.

I AM DISCLOSING no secret that the Republicans oppose, almost despise, those who were either in the Roosevelt or Truman regimes and who now hold office under Eisenhower.

They are regarded as a Trojan Horse element that has stolen the victory from the Republicans. Anyone who speaks to organization Republicans, up and down the country, must recognize the symptoms of political apathy.

In 1954, that could mean a defeat of the Republican party at the polls. Not a Republican in Congress is without worry over this situation, no matter what his public statements may be.

It is possible that a way will be found to overcome this cleavage. Vice President Nixon, Majority Leader William Knowland and National Committee Chairman Leonard Hall are laboring valiantly to hold the party together and curiously, they all look to the strength of Senator McCarthy to count in tight spots. No one believes it will be an easy task.

THE INTERCESSION of Senators Walter George and Pat McCarran in the Bricker Amendment fight has frightened the Republicans to this extent, that a group of Democrats may take over the fight for the amendment, make it an issue in the 1954 campaign and walk off with the advantage for their party.

If the conservative Democrats win in 1954, they will have this benefit: they will not only take over the committee chairmanships but they will reduce the influence of the ADA to nearly nothing.

And Republicans are worried except those in the administration who permit themselves to be blackmailed by the so-called left-wing press.

AFL Council Hears Plan on Ending Feuds

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A compromise plan for solving union jurisdictional feuds within the AFL was expected to win approval today from the AFL Executive Council.

The plan was worked out last night by a special committee. It reportedly gives AFL unions this choice: submitting scraps to binding arbitration, or leaving them up to previously ineffectual AFL machinery.

With rising unemployment AFL unions have indicated more frequently a desire to work out conflicting work claims in an orderly manner and the AFL convention in St. Louis last fall directed the AFL council to make some arrangement.

A special committee headed by AFL President George Meany agreed on a plan for the council's consideration today that halfway meets the problem. It provides that arbitration, or a binding decision by a neutral, will be offered in such disputes but unions can veto arbitrations and submit their troubles to the Executive Council.

In the past such council decisions have often been influenced by politics among council members and the resulting actions have been frequently ignored.

Kroger Lists 1953 Net Income at $12½ Million

CINCINNATI (AP)—For every dollar housewives spent at Kroger Co. food stores in 1953, 1.2 cents were returned to the owners as net profit, the company said Monday.

In its annual report to stockholders, Kroger said net income after taxes last year was $12,528,664, an increase over 1952 of $418,557. This was equal to 13.40 a share.

Galion School District May Absorb Polk

GALION — The Galion Board of Education expects to consider admission of the entire Polk Township school district to the Galion city school district, effective May 31, 1954, it was decided at Monday night's meeting of the board.

Isabel Monroe, clerk-treasurer of the board, was instructed to advise the Polk Township board and the Crawford County board of this action which the local board will make official at its May meeting. The transfer involves some 242 pupils at present, it was reported by Supt. Marion E. Shank.

During the opening period, considerable time was spent in correcting the reading of the minutes of the last meeting of the board. An effort also was made to clarify the position of members regarding the board's policy agreed upon at a closed session of the board on Jan. 11, as well as the matter of why the session had been a closed one.

The board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Lee Harmon, kindergarten teacher, and Harold Friar, high school teacher. The names of Mrs. Marvin Fogt and Mrs. George Frost were added to the substitute teacher list with approval of the board.

The board tabled a request from Police Captain Wilbur Schenegelsberger that students be prohibited from driving cars to school. He complained of "cowboy" drivers. The board delayed action on this matter until state laws are checked.

Upon recommendation of Supt. Shank, the board changed the school calendar. Schools will close on May 31.

BOOST ESSAY PRIZE

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State University trustees have increased the essay prize awarded each year from a fund set up by William Jennings Bryan at the turn of the century. Originally, the prize was $15 for the best student essay discussing principles of American government. The trustees acted to boost the award to 2 or 3 prizes of $100 each.

Young Lady Has Rough Mail Route

DIAMOND, Ga. (INS)—A young woman named Versel Jones climbs behind the wheel of a jeep every day and goes bounding off over rutted and rocky roads—for her job as a mail carrier on one of the roughest routes in the Rural Free Delivery system.

Mrs. Jones has made her aper and mother of an eight-year-old son, is rounding out five years of service for the Postoffice.

Her route, which extends over 48 miles of mountainous road, is all up, down and around. Even in fair weather the going is rough, but she says she enjoys her work and has found "new bounce" in the job.

Mrs Jones has made her appointed rounds in rain and snow, through deep mud and over ice.

To the folks of Diamond and others along her 60-mailbox route, she is more than just "the mailman." Having what is known as a Star route, she is allowed to deliver groceries and transport "people and things," as well as mail.

Well-Padded Fronts

By Victor Riesel

Red fronts are well padded with greenbacks — some $2,000,000,000 (billion) worth. From none other than America's own international chief, Allan Dulles, head of the Central Intelligence Agency, comes word now that the Soviet Union is spending that much money each year to camouflage its propaganda and infiltration activities across the world.

RIESEL

This buys the Soviets a vast "innocent" front apparatus reaching into the heart of America — in addition to the official worldwide Party machine which has 25,000,000 Communist Party members registered. The pro-Soviets' chief base of front operations in America is in some 10 very strategic unions which are outside the AFL and CIO. Propaganda headquarters for these unions has just been moved from Chicago to New York, where it is set up in an office at 799 Broadway. One of its top operatives lives in a New Jersey city and is well watched. . .

—:—

THAT'S WHY THE government seeks to revamp our Foreign Agents Registration Act. The Justice Dept. now wants a law which would force representatives of an organization to register even if it can't be proven that the outfit is subsidized by another nation. All that would be necessary is proof that a foreign government or a foreign political party supervises, directs or controls a domestic organization to a degree that it sets the group's policies and activities.

Under the law now it is necessary to prove that the outfit is actually "subsidized," which is frequently impossible because of the intricate means of indirectly supplying funds. . .

It's expensive to be subversive in California. There, a comparatively new state law requires the filing of a non-Communist affidavit before any individual or organization can obtain a tax exemption. This is particularly important to the unions, most of which claim exemption from the corporation taxes. But there are a few unions guess which ones, that will find it difficult to file such affidavits and prove they're non-Commie. . .

RECENTLY THERE arrived in the temporary Berlin headquarters of Secretary of State Dulles what appeared to be a telegraphed petition from Chicago CIO members. It appealed for "maximum world wide trade between nations" (meaning, of course, Russia and China). And it was signed by a Leon Beverly, president of Local 347, CIO United Packinghouse Workers.

This is to inform the State Dept. that Beverly has refused to deny under congressional oath that he was a Communist Party member or that he worked with a group which is part of the pro-Soviet international propaganda apparatus. That group, "The Committee to Survey Trade Union Conditions in Europe," is run by one Charles Velson, who has refused to deny under oath that he worked with the Soviet masterspy, J. Peters, once Whittaker Chambers' boss.

Under Congressional questioning Velson refused to deny that he helped Peters plant agents in our military services. Somebody should repudiate Beverly and make certain he can't use CIO as a front again. . .

WHEN THE CONTROVERSIAL Distributive, Processing and Office Workers Union — which professes to have broken with the Communist Party line — sought admission to CIO, it received interim affiliation and a chance to clean itself up. Then it invaded Texas and was rebuffed after its leaders stood on the Fifth Amendment and refused to say whether they had been in the Soviet apparatus.

The other day Reuther slashed the interim affiliation and told the DPOW leaders they could come into CIO only if they broke their outfit up into 28 sections. These were to enter as individual locals supervised by national CIO officals. They refused. The DPOW is now planning to seek affiliation with the AFL Teamsters Union and then launch a drive to unionize the nation's retail and department stores. This union has heavy investments on the Stock Exchange and in New York and Florida realestate.

Symbol Passes

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

The slaying of Maxwell Bodenheim, a futile poet and novelist, is a flamboyant epitaph to a Greenwich Village that is gone.

It is a kind of mortal farewell to a Bohemianism that died long ago, and for almost 25 years has become to the outsider a Manhattan tourist attraction. The tourists still feel they have to see Greenwich Village just as they used to visit Grant's tomb.

HAL BOYLE

They go to Radio City now or visit the top of the Empire State instead of calling on Gen. Grant. But time doesn't dim the magic of some names. And so they still like to beam at the bums on the Bowery, gawk at the law-abiding chop suey dens of Chinatown that the late O. O. McIntyre pictured full of slant-eyed opium addicts—and they like to go to Greenwich Village, hoping to see the mad, bad, Bohemian artists at play.

The passing of poor Max Bodenheim is only the irony of the death of a symbol. He came here out of the Chicago Literary School, as did his arch rival, Ben Hecht, who coauthored "The Front Page," with Charles MacArthur, another Chicago newspaperman.

AT ONE TIME they all were regarded as Midwestern Bohemians. Then the roads went different ways. MacArthur married Helen Hayes after, so the legend goes, winning her heart by holding out some peanuts and saying, "I wish they were emeralds."

But both MacArthur and Hecht went on to hit the literary jackpot. Bodenheim never became popular. His life resolved itself, according to many critics, into a victory of alcoholism over a fine talent.

He settled in Greenwich Village and became a character in an out-of-date Bohemianism. He died of a .22 caliber bullet through the chest, and the saddest and perhaps the truest thing you can say of Maxwell Bodenheim is that the guy who pulled the trigger picked the right size gun to measure his final stature as a writer. Max pulled the trigger on his own life long ago, or at least on the promise that his life held. And why he did it is his own secret, and our mystery.

JOHN MASEFIELD mopped a bar-room floor in Greenwich Village and later became famous. Eugene O'Neill dreamed and loved and probably drank there. So did Edn Millay, Alexander Hamilton, Edgar Allen Poe, and a very eloquent living friend of mine named John Lardner, and a hundred talented others.

My wife and I, when young, lived for seven happy years next door to the home where once had dwelt Richard Harding Davis (the Ernie Pyle of his day) and three doors from the apartment house where Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt lived for a time, too. As a matter of fact, Ernie Pyle lived in Greenwich Village briefly, and was unhappy there.

Greenwich Village today is one of the nicest residential communities for some of the most solidly respectable people in America. It has a few of the finest restaurants in the land. It also has a few cheap tawdry night clubs that are a disgrace to it and the people who come there looking for "atmosphere."

THEY ARE TEARING down Mark Twain's old home to put up a big apartment house. New York University, where Thomas Wolfe taught English by day and brooded and wrote by night, is gradually ringing Washington square, the heart of Greenwich Village, and, some old-timers fear, turning it into a campus.

Real estate men say that one out of three young, eager, ambitious people who come to New York want to settle first in Greenwich Village. They seek inspiration and atmosphere, and being young, they think they can find it where other people they have heard of found these things before them.

But, accepting Greenwich Village is a symbol, did Maxwell Bodenheim ever find it, although he came here, lived here and died here? He became a Greenwich Village character for the tourists while the real Bohemians were enjoying Park avenue.

The lesson of Bodenheim, certainly, is that the best address for a man's inspiration is his own mind, and that the home of any true artist is always his heart, where he really lives.
